Fire-Dust Plagued Wide Areas

Two Traffic Deaths In Kansas Blamed On Dust Clouds; Visibility is Cut

By the Associated Press
A double-barrelled threat to farmlands—fire and dust—plagued wide areas of the plains states today.

One man, Leroy Little, fire chief of Sunray, Texas, was burned fatally fighting a fire that raged out of control for hours near Dumas, Texas. Another Sunray fireman, Fred Carter, was burned critically.

High winds whipped up dust clouds yesterday over thousands of acres of cropland. Visibility was cut to half a mile in some parts of Texas and New Mexico.

In Kansas, two traffic fatalities were blamed on dust clouds. At Garden City in Western Kansas visibility and ceiling was reported at zero for a 30-minute period.

The dust brought back memories of the "black blizzards" of the 1930s because it started blowing so early in the year. However, it is not anywhere near as severe as in 1935 and 1936 when dust storms destroyed thousands of acres of rich cropland and ruined countless farmers.

Cold Air and Snow

A fresh blast of cold air with

TOPEKA, Kas., March 7—(AP)—Dust, mixed with light snow flurries, cut visibility today in western Kansas as it was whipped eastward toward the central part of the state on a persistent wind.

The Wichita weather bureau shortly before noon reported visibility was restricted to less than a block in parts of western Kansas because of blowing dust which started yesterday. The weather bureau there also reported a light snow was falling in much of the western and central Kansas and also in western Nebraska.

A light, brief wet snow cleared the air in Saline county just at the beginning of another dust there in mid-morning. The wind there was brisk but there was little dust in the air.

drifting snow swept across Eastern Nebraska and headed for the north central states. Blizzard conditions were forecast for the Dakotas and Minnesota.

But the northeastern part of the country had the coldest weather, with temperatures below zero in some parts of New England. Readings were far above normal in the Southern Plains states and the middle Mississippi valley, with temperatures in the 50's as far north as Iowa.

Showers and thunderstorms were reported in the Central Plains states and in the lower Missouri valley. Rain fell in the South Atlantic and East Gulf states northward into Tennessee and Kentucky.

High winds were reported over much of the central part of the country.

Prairie Fires

Yesterday's high winds also sent prairie fires whipping across parts of Texas, Kansas and Nebraska.

In Texas four separate fires blackened thousands of acres of choice ranch and wheatlands. All were in the Texas panhandle.

All these fires were extinguished during the night.

The biggest fire was the one near Dumas.

At one time it raged on a front 15 to 20 miles long through tinder-dry, drought-stricken farmland. Fire fighters, their ranks swelled by volunteers, choked on smoke and dust whipped by high winds.

The loss in the Dumas fire alone was unofficially estimated at 100 square miles burned over, numerous outbuildings and livestock, one residence, and a total (Please Turn To Page 4, Col. 6)

Police in Dither

Over a Broken Leg

GLENDAL, Calif., March 7—(AP)—"I've broken my leg," explained Wendell Holmes, 53, when police found him lying in the street.

He was rushed yesterday to physicians and surgeons hospital but when the doctors examined him, they withdrew from the case and called a carpenter. Police said Teat forgot to mention that the leg was wooden.

Search Called Off

MIAMI, Fla., March 7—(AP)—The coast guard called off a search today for survivors of a boat explosion and fire after two men aboard the craft reported they spent the night safe at home.

The men were listed as Evedard Guthrie, 38, owner of the mullet boat, and his helper John di Giacomini. They were the only persons aboard.

No Coyote Peace In Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES, March 7—(AP)—It's getting so a respectable coyote can't walk down the street any more. Not in Los Angeles, anyway.

This particular coyote is strolling through the Wilshire district yesterday when folks suddenly started hollering at him. So Melvin Ward, a telephone repairman, shoots the beast into a garage and slams the door.

Today, the critter, a six months old pup, is in solitary at the city pound. He'll be given to the zoo if nobody claims him.

Springfield Is Without Natural Gas

Explosion and Fire Wreck Regulator Station Today

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., March 7—(AP)—An explosion and fire wrecked a regulator station today and left this city of 75,000 without a natural gas supply.

Approximately 7,300 homes depend on gas for heating and other uses. About 50 industrial also use gas but most of them can switch to standby equipment.

The blast and fire destroyed the pumping station—a relay booster plant—and a nearby gasoline service station. No one was injured.

G. Nick Sprong, general manager of City Utilities, said he hoped the break could be repaired in several hours but that it might be several days before the gas flow could be resumed.

The weather forecast calls for a drop in temperatures tonight to 35 or 40 degrees. Gas to hospitals and similar institutions will be turned on first, Sprong said.

The Cities Service company is Springfield's sole supplier of natural gas.

No one was injured in the blast about 2:30 a. m. and the fire. But Mr. and Mrs. Owen Meriman and their son, Burnell, who lived in a nearby service station, made a lucky escape minutes before their frame dwelling was demolished.

Sound asleep, unaware their station was afire, they were awakened by a passing motorist, Homer Menzies.

Menzies, a pressman for the Gospel Publishing Co., discovered the blaze as he was on the way to work at 2:20 a. m.

Small Flame at First

"It was just a little flame on the top of a tin roof and it kept growing and growing," Menzies said.

Menzies stopped his car and went to the service station next door. He aroused the Merrimans who got out just before the first explosion at the regulator station through which passes all gas for Springfield.

Menzies then went to the home of Neil Gibson, overseer of the regulator station who lives about a quarter of a mile north of the station. He had already been awakened, however, and was on his way to another station about a mile south to shut off the gas.

"I saw a B-29 full of gasoline explode at the Salina, Kas., air base about two years ago but it didn't make half the flames or explosion this did," Menzies said.

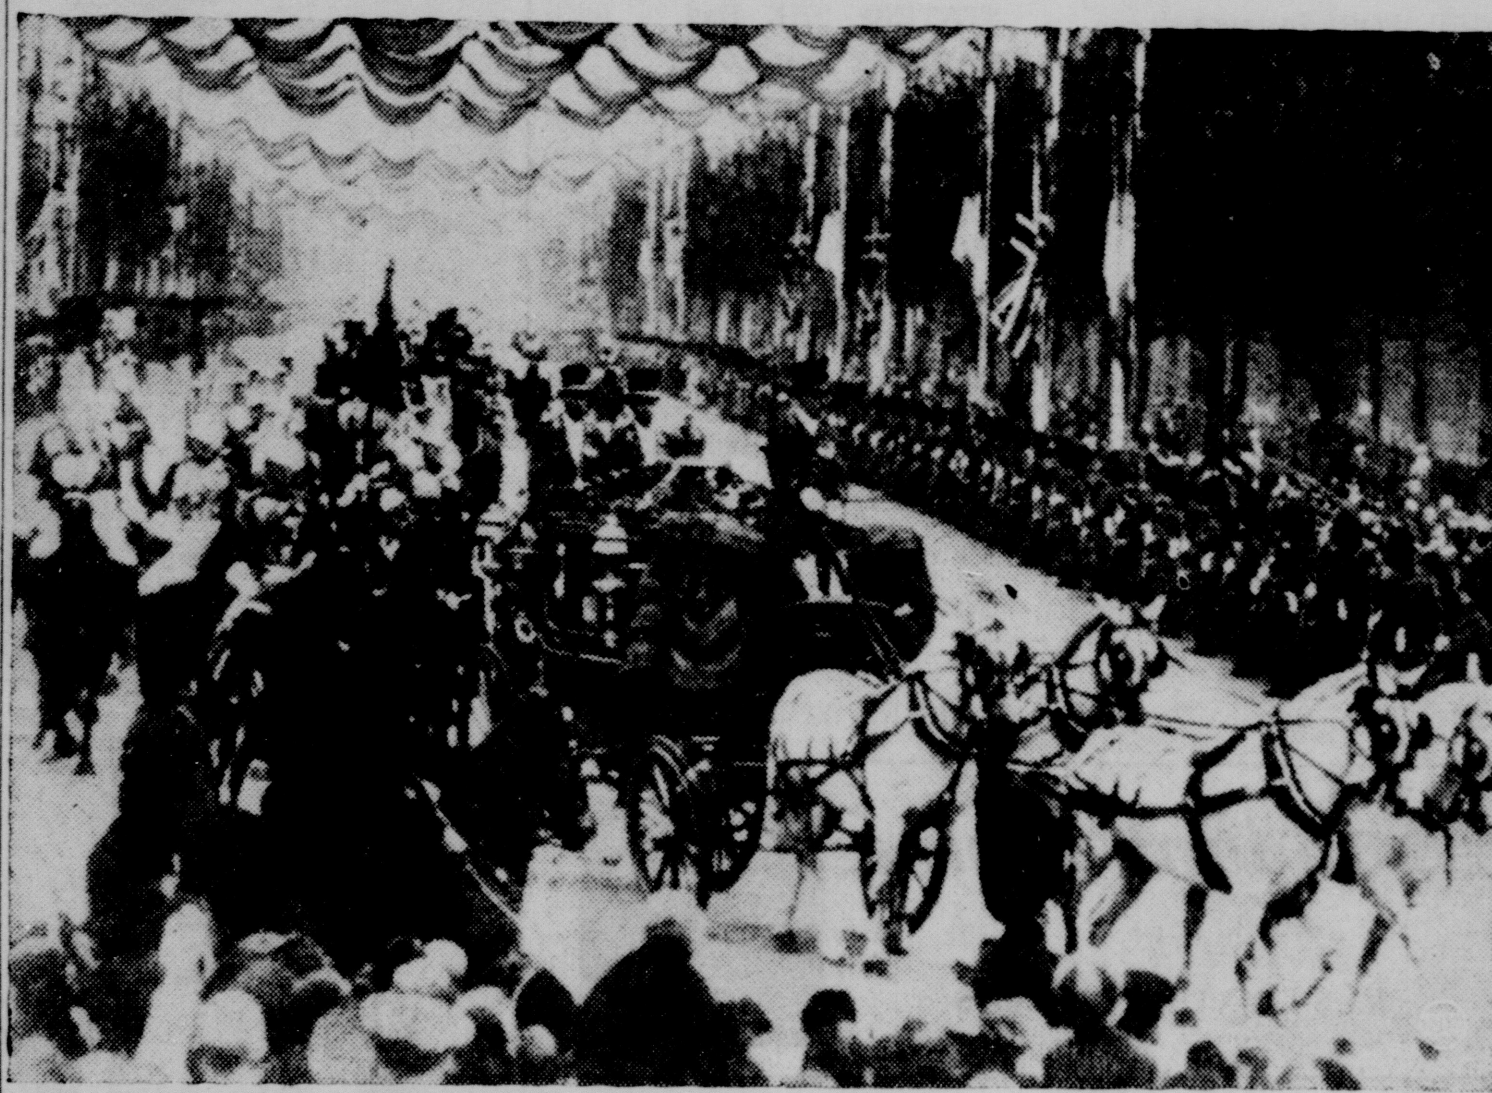

Sprong said it will be two or three days, maybe more, before Springfield is back on gas again.

Dr. Sander Only One to Testify He Knew Nothing About Air

By Howard W. Blakeslee
Associated Press Science Editor

MANCHESTER, N.H., March 7

(AP)—Dr. Hermann M. Sander, charged with mercy killing by air injection, testified he didn't know anything about air's ability to cause death.

In his trial, Dr. Sander is the only doctor to date to testify that he knew virtually nothing about air. Others, prosecution and defense, have testified that they knew air was bad—and that enough would cause death. Most said they didn't know how much.

Dr. Sander stuck to his story about lack of this knowledge through sharp cross examination. Once he said, in reply to a question by Prosecutor William L. Phinney, that he "had no knowledge of air embolism on Dec. 4."

That was the day he gave air to Mrs. Abbie C. Borroto.

Dr. Sander's story that he does not know why he injected the air remained unshaken through hours of questioning.

He said that by Dec. 29, the date he was accused by county officials, he knew that air injection "is not acceptable medical treatment." That is a medical phrase meaning that doctors don't use air in veins or tissues.

The amount of air that Dr. Sander injected was cut about in half by his own testimony. In his signed statement, which is part of the hospital records, he said ten cubic centimeters repeated four times.

Under cross-examination he said this was not accurate. That he probably injected air three times instead of four. The first time, he said, he had the syringe full—but the next two only about half full of air. These figures would cut the total air to about 25 cubic centimeters.

"They didn't give me a break," he said of his first questioning by county officers.

He explained he meant that when he was first questioned, the matter already had been given to the police. And that he thought, in view of his reputation, his fellow doctors should have questioned him about the facts before police action.

His implication was that he would have told his colleagues Mrs. Borroto was already dead before he gave her air.

Auto Accident Fatal to Two

ROLLA, Mo., March 7—(AP)—An automobile accident took the lives of Mr. and Mrs. David N. Neeler, Gary, Ind., on U.S. Highway 66, 13 miles west of here last night.

The elderly couple, both were about 70 years old, were en route to Gary when their automobile went out of control on a curve and overturned several times.

The husband was killed instantly and Mrs. Neeler died as she was being placed in the ambulance.

Authorities said the couple were on their way back to Gary from Arkansas where they had purchased a farm. They had intended to have their household goods shipped to the farm where they planned to live.

Fulton Expects Large Primary Vote

FULTON, Mo., March 7—(AP)—A large vote is expected in the Democratic primary here today.

The nomination for mayor is being sought by two candidates this year for the first time since 1934. They are Raymond Walker and Jack A. Garrett.

In two other races there are four candidates each. They are for city collector and police judge. There are also contests for the four city council posts.

Rezoning Issue Discussed By The Council

Resolution For Airport Property Sale Is Passed

There was considerable discussion at the regular meeting of the City Council Monday night, relative to whether or not the council should rezone property on the south side of West Broadway, the two lots east of the southeast corner of Broadway and State Fair boulevard. A petition filed by Dr. L. S. Geiger, owner of the property, to rezone it from a one-family area to a business area, that Richard Dillon, baker and who would purchase the ground erect a building for wholesale and retail business, had been denied by the zoning board. When this is done the matter is referred to the city council for acceptance or rejection of the board's action.

Mr. Dillon explained he planned to erect a modern, up-to-date building, for retail and wholesale business, that he came to Sedalia five years ago, conducted a sound business, believed he was entitled to expand, and he would like to have that site. The property adjacent on the west is rezoned for industry.

On the other hand Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Heynen, who live on State Fair boulevard, Eddie J. Deuel, 2007 West Broadway, A. Maxwell, 2000 West Broadway, and C. L. Meyers, who owns property in the neighborhood, represented twelve property owners, opposing the rezoning. Their contention was that it is a home district, and even though there are some business houses nearby on Limit avenue, the neighborhood should be restricted, that it would devalue their property and they believed Mr. Dillon could find some other suitable property for a bakery.

Final Action Deferred

Within the council John Vandekamp, fourth ward alderman favored rezoning the property, declaring rezoning of certain properties must be done if Sedalia is to grow. He moved it be rezoned. Herb Studer, also fourth ward alderman, moved the action of the board be accepted, stating he was familiar with the matter and thought the property should not be rezoned. Mayor Julian H. Bagby ruled them both out of order and called for a second reading of the proposed ordinance. Then followed the discussion, and on motion of Virgil Corson, who stated he believed the council would like to give the whole matter more consideration, action was tabled by a unanimous vote.

It was brought out during the discussion that 12 property owners had signed a petition protesting the rezoning and 12 others stating they had no objections.

W. H. Guhman, of St. Louis, was voted engineer to supervise building of runways, hangars and equipment necessary on the new airport property, which is to be purchased east of Sedalia, on the north side of the highway, just east of the underpass.

Authorize Airport Sale
A resolution was passed authorizing advertising for sale the present city airport ground near Dresden, said property to be sold either in tracts, one or more, or altogether.

Another resolution provides for action to condemn property to provide an easement through the Frank Adams place on North Grand avenue, for laying a sewer, part of the city sewer system.

M. D. Weathers, 920 South Limit avenue, who is selling his package liquor license to the Esser Sales Corp., 906 South Limit avenue, was granted a license to sell 3.2 beer. Other renewal licenses granted were: to Henry Mos, 302 West Main street, liquor by the drink; Orvis W. Crouch, 724 West Sixteenth street, 3.2 beer; Sedalia Drug company, package liquor.

'Siamese-Twin' Girls Are Born
SYDNEY, Australia, March 7—(AP)—Dr. John Starr reported today that Siamese twin girls joined at the top of their heads were born to Mrs. Erskine Smith near Burnie, Tasmania, Saturday night.

He said the babies and their mother are doing well but the babies must lie head to head in an extended cot.

"It is as if you stood one head-first on the other," Dr. Starr told a reporter. "The join is about three inches in diameter and is actually formed by the skulls. I cannot see that they can be severed and remain alive."

Except for the joining of heads, the twins were normally formed, the doctor said.

House Passes Hawaii Bill

WASHINGTON, Mar. 7—(AP)—The House passed a bill today to make Hawaii a state.

Last Friday, the House passed the Alaska statehood bill by a vote of 186 to 146.

Senate action on the two measures is uncertain. Two years ago, the Senate interior committee allowed a House-passed Hawaiian statehood bill to die without action. The Alaska bill has never before been considered in the Senate.

Only a few House members opposed Hawaiian statehood during debate.

House action followed pleas by delegate Farrington (R-Hawaii) and nearly a score of House members to give the people of Hawaii the rights of full citizenship they have sought for many years.

Several of the House opponents of the Alaska statehood bill joined the backers of statehood for Hawaii.

Crew Leaders For Census Are Selected

Applicants For Enumerators Are Taking Examinations

Crew leaders for the census to be taken in Pettis county have been named by O. P. Keller, Sixth district supervisor of the 1950 census. Edw. S. Behen, 230 South Monticau avenue has been named leader of Sedalia crew and Carl L. Ragar of Green Ridge, leader of the county crew. The enumerators who will take the census will be appointed by March 15, according to Mr. Keller.

Mrs. D. Kelly Scruton, 724 West Third street, has been offered the position as editor and chief of the census returns with headquarters at Springfield. Mrs. Scruton today said she would wait a few days before deciding upon accepting or rejecting the appointment made by Mr. Keller.

Examinations Being Taken
One hundred and ten persons took the examinations for enumerators, while several others who were unable to be present Monday and today because of illness or previous appointments, will be given an opportunity to take the test the latter part of the week.

There will be thirty-six enumerators appointed to take the census and several alternates, Mr. Keller announced. Those persons who took the crew leader tests will also be considered when the enumerator appointments are made, he said.

The tests were given this morning by Mr. Ragar and Mr. Behen under the supervision of Mr. Keller.

The 1950 census will begin on April 1 and is expected to be completed in the district not later than June 30.

Warning to Housewives
Mr. Keller also issued a warning to housewives and others to be on the lookout for persons who are representing themselves as taking the census. "We have no enumerators in the field at this time and our office already has complaints of persons representing themselves as takers of the census. Before the enumerators begin their task we shall have a picture of one who will have the proper identification as well as the appropriately decorated kits used by the field workers," Mr. Keller stated.

Truman Asks For Nine-man Commission to Study Problem

WASHINGTON, March 7—(AP)—President Truman today asked Congress to authorize a nine-man commission to study long-range coal industry problems.

Along with identical letters to Vice-President Barkley and House Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex.), Mr. Truman sent to the capitol a proposed bill to create the commission which would report within one year.

The commission would be made up of two senators, two representatives, and five persons to be appointed by the president—one from the government and four civilians.

In a message last Friday the president said he would ask for such legislation. He described the coal industry as a "sick industry."

At that time he asked for authority to seize the mines, but in his letters today he said settlement of the mine strike made it unnecessary for Congress to give this further consideration now.

He added however that the end of the coal strike "has in no way diminished the need for a long-range study of the coal industry with the view of finding and putting into effect the best solutions of its problems from the standpoint of the miners, the operators, and, above all, the national interest."

"I therefore, hope that the Congress will enact legislation of this character as soon as possible."

Two Found Guilty of Conspiracy

Federal Jury Rules Ex-Government Employee and Russian Spied For the Soviet

NEW YORK, March 7—(AP)—Judith Coplon and Valentin A. Gubitchev, the Soviet engineer, were found guilty of conspiracy and attempted espionage.

A federal court jury of six men and six women ruled that the former government employee and the stocky blond Russian met secretly in New York and plotted to spy for Soviet Russia.

Judith Coplon

It announced its verdict at 11:45 a.m. (EST) after having been locked up overnight. The jurors went out at 4:35 p.m. yesterday.

Brunette, vivacious Miss Coplon, 28, was found guilty on two counts—one of conspiracy and one of attempted espionage. She was found innocent of another charge that she attempted to transmit classified FBI documents to unauthorized persons.

Both she and Gubitchev, 38, were convicted on a conspiracy charge to commit espionage by removing classified documents from government files and to defraud the United States of her important services.

Remanded to Jail

Both defendants were remanded to jail for sentencing at 10:30 a.m. Thursday.

Miss Coplon can receive a maximum of 25 years in prison and a $10,000 fine. Gubitchev faces a maximum penalty of 15 years in prison and a $20,800 fine. Miss Coplon is already under 40 months to 10 years sentence for conviction on similar charges in Washington, D.C.

Neither betrayed any emotion as they sat and heard the verdict.

Then, as she left the courtroom, Miss Coplon smiled weakly and kissed one of her attorneys, Leonard Boudini, and her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Bertram Coplon.

The first count in the four count indictment of which both were found guilty charged conspiracy to commit espionage, specifying removal of "classified government documents and defrauding the U. S. government of Miss Coplon's impartial services. The maximum penalty is five years in prison and a $10,000 fine.

Second Count
The second count, of which she was found innocent, accused her of attempted espionage by attempting to transmit government documents to unauthorized persons.

The third count, of which Gubitchev was found guilty, accused him alone of acting as an unauthorized person attempting to receive secret government documents. The maximum penalty is 10 years and a $10,000 fine.

The fourth count of which Miss Coplon was found guilty, accused her alone of attempted espionage in trying to transmit documents relating to the national defense to a citizen of a foreign power, Russia, with the belief it would be used to injure the United States. This was the most serious charge and carries a maximum penalty of 20 years in prison, but no fine.

Gubitchev, as has been his custom since the trial began Jan. 24, stared straight ahead when the verdict was announced and the jurors were polled twice at the request of defense attorneys.

His face was slightly flushed as he went to a rack and took his hat and coat before being led out by a deputy marshal.

Truman Emphasizes to Congressional Leaders
The Need for Federal Aid-to-Education Bill

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON.—In a recent conference with congressional "big four" leaders, the President made it bluntly clear that he expected them to finish passage of the federal aid-to-education bill, which already has passed the Senate.

"I'm depending on you to get a satisfactory bill through the House during this session," Truman told Speaker Sam Rayburn and House Majority Chief John McCormack.

The President added that he wouldn't attempt to dictate the terms of the bill regarding such controversial questions as free bus transportation for parochial students.

"The Democratic party," he said, "has promised aid for our schools and I am determined that we will make good on that promise. You bring me a bill down here and I'll sign it."

Briefing Public on A-War

A plan to form a chain of aircraft spotters across the United States has been drawn up in the national defense department.

The idea is for the public to do less worrying and more preparing for possible atomic attack.
To this end the general public will be briefed on how to escape danger and stop panic, while civilian minutemen will be trained in peace for possible duties in case of war.

One of these is a civilian aircraft warning net, stretching in an arc across 25 northern states from North Carolina to California cutting across the middle of Illinois, Ohio and Indiana.
Civilian volunteers will be trained, then kept on a stand-by basis at key posts to scan the skies for enemy planes. This is necessary to supplement our radar screen which hasn't been completed yet and has certain blind spots, anyhow.

The Navy has also been assigned to work with civilian authorities in order to throw a dim-out switch down the Pacific coast as an emergency, anti-submarine measure. A similar program will be worked out later for the Atlantic coast.

Must Face Unpleasantities

The plans being drafted include some unpleasant news, but military leaders believe they should be faced now.

In case of atomic attack, key civilians will be trained in each city to care for the dead and wounded and restore the city to emergency operation. Mobile units will also be trained to move into an atomic-blitzed city and aid local authorities. Biggest need will be a huge blood reservoir. Another problem concerns the present humanitarian concept of aiding most critical cases first. In mass destructions, it will be more important to concentrate on aiding those who have a better chance of surviving. This tragic problem is already under study by medical experts.

A huge national war game, testing military-civilian teamwork from coast-to-coast, is also proposed.

Senate Food-Price Probe

The inside story behind high food prices will be brought out into the open today by courtly, white-haired Sen. Guy Gillette, an Iowa dairy farmer whose subcommittee has been digging into skyrocketing prices of coffee, milk, bread, eggs, coffee, poultry and live stock.

Despite terrific pressure to stop his trouble,
Gillette will show that, while farmers' income is shrinking and consumers pay more, the middleman has been making more.

In January, 1949, for instance, the largest U.S. coffee importer, the Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co., paid 25 cents a pound for coffee, and sold it for 47 cents. Ten months later A & P paid 28 cents a pound, but charged 65 cents.

Another big buyer, General Foods, raised its retail price from 51 cents to 76 cents a pound, although it paid approximately the same import price as A & P.

Many of the big importers are members of the Sugar & Coffee Exchange, which were investigated after World War I because of the hike in sugar prices. Gillette investigators figure a sugar price rise is in the cards now, unless the Senate's coffee probe scares it off.

JOHN L. LEWIS VS. PHIL MURRAY.—The good old American spirit of free competition may be fine regarding some things but it was partly responsible for the coal crisis. Harry Moses of U.S. Steel's giant H. C. Frick Coal

Lewis a bigger wage increase than that given Phil Murray's CIO steelworkers. When rank-

IDAHO POTATOES.—Here are two interesting things about the potato surplus: 1.—Idaho potatoes aren't glutting the market like Maine spuds. 2.—Acreage quotas aren't going to limit the potato crop much. Farmers simply use more fertilizer. Maine farmers have now increased their yield to 450 bushels per acre, whereas the national yield is 211 bushels. Thanks to fertilizer and insect sprays, however, the national average next year will be 240 bushels.
Meanwhile, top Idaho spuds have been selling for $2.75 to $3.50 per bushel while Uncle Sam is paying a support price of around $2 for surpluses. So it's not in Idaho that potatoes have been piling up.

HOT WAR.—It didn't leak out, but the cold war almost turned into a hot war last week.
Yugoslav troops were on the verge of invading Albania, which would probably have precipitated a counter-attack by Russia. But U.S. Ambassador George Allen in Belgrade got wind of Yugoslavia's preparations, went to Marshal Tito and told him that, if Yugoslavia did invade Albania, the United States would be forced to denounce him before the United Nations.
This cooled Tito off and he called off his troops.

British Vote Holds Lesson—
If GOP Can Only See it

By Bruce Blossat

A lot of our Republicans think the British election results boost their own stock for next November's balloting in this country. They see a worldwide "trend to the Right."

There may well be some substance to this notion. But there are some matters the Republicans ought to review before they start getting too confident.

In the first place, as has been pointed out many times, the welfare state wasn't at issue in Britain. Nor was the socialism that has already been put into effect. The Conservatives accept all that the Labor Party has achieved up to now under these headings.

They do promise not to do any more socializing. But on the other hand they pledge themselves to expand some welfare programs, particularly housing.

All this places the Conservatives well to the left of the most extreme leftists among President Truman's Democratic followers. And it stamps them unmistakably as a "me-too" party.

So the British trend is hardly what U. S.
Republicans may like to think it is. It may be well for them to remember, too, that Labor's share of the total British vote dropped less than 2 per cent as compared with 1945.

Republicans have been torn for some time now over the wisdom of me-tooism. Some leaders have accepted the majority of changes wrought by the Democrats, but others insist this gives the voters no real choice.

Britain has now contributed to the GOP debate. For the Conservatives, embracing the bulk of their opponents' established programs, have bounced back within a short five years to a level almost even with Labor.

By contrast, Republicans in this country, confused about where to take their stand, have been kept out of the White House for nearly 18 straight years. And except for the brief 1946-48 interlude, they've been denied control of Congress for as long.

The British result doesn't prove that "the worm finally turns" for an opposition party merely content to oppose—and wait. The Conservatives' quick recovery is rooted in a grasp of social and political realities.

If the GOP can understand this lesson and act upon it, the British balloting may indeed have helped the party's cause in the 1950 campaign. But if the Republicans insist on interpreting the outcome as assurance they've been right all along, they'll be deluding themselves with false comforts. And November will bring another rude awakening.

Character Will Tell

Secretary of State Acheson has made a commendable statement to Congress on his attitude toward Alger Hiss, former State Department employee who was convicted of perjury last month.

Acheson's original statement after Hiss' trial was clear enough to those who troubled to read it. He specifically declined to comment on the question of Hiss' guilt or innocence, since an appeal was and is pending in the courts.

He said, however, that he could not "turn his back" on Hiss, who had been a personal friend.
By this he meant that as an individual, as a Christian, he felt bound to treat his friend with compassion at the moment of his deep trouble.
To speak out thus was courageous, for Acheson must have known his remarks would be turned to suggest he was "defending" Hiss.

That's exactly what happened, which is why he humbled himself to explain to a committee in Congress that he did not mean by his words to condone the offense charged against Hiss.

It's too bad Acheson had to discuss Hiss at all, but his personal ties made that inevitable. That being so, he has handled himself as one would expect. For he is a man of character and high moral integrity.

THE BASIS OF RESENTMENTS: AN UNSURRENDERING SELF

While the central and fundamental motive for forgiving injuries against us is that God forgives us, and we therefore copy God as His children, nevertheless there are minor motives and techniques which we can use in dealing with resentments.

(1) Remember that at the basis of most resentments is a touchy, unsundered self. The fact that we have been able to hold the resentment shows that there is a self that is over-sensitive because unsundered to the will of God. When sundered to the will of God we throw off resentments as a healthy skin throws off disease germs. Unless there is inner disease or an abrasion of the skin, the disease germs can get no foothold. So, when resentments have gained a footing, it shows that there is a raw, sensitive self underneath that has become a culture soil for the rooting and growth of resentments. Suspect a sense that can grow resentments—it is probably diseased with self-centeredness.

(2) Raise the question with yourself as to whether your resentments aren't rooted in imaginary slights, insults, and wrongs. A self-centered person can imagine a group is talking about him when that group is talking about everything else but him; he can read into actions and statements meanings never intended;
he can go around with a suspicious, looking-for-slights attitude, and will find imaginary ones aplenty. A sensitive person can by his very mental attitude throw people around him into unnatural, closed-in attitudes which he interprets as intentional hurts and slights; but all the time he is oblivious of the fact that his own attitudes of self-centered sensitiveness created the very things in others against which he reacts.

Remember that "when you go around with a chip on your shoulder, the chip is probably from the block above."

O God, my Father, help me to see myself clearly, for I defend myself: I gather self-defensive arguments around myself as a magnet. Let me then lay this resentment-gathering self at Thy feet for cleansing and release. In Jesus' name. Amen.

The Doctor Says—

You Have to Learn to Slow Down in Your Middle Years

BY EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D.
Written for NEA Service

Several people have written asking for a discussion of the medical problems of middle age.
This is a larger order and besides most of us are unwilling to admit that youth has passed and middle age has set in. When one is 18, 25 looks middle-aged; at 35 middle age still seems comfortably far off!

The division of life into childhood, youth, middle age and old age is an arbitrary one. Actually, aging is a gradual process and the health problems connected with each period of life are only slightly different from those of the next younger group.

There are some differences: a man of 20 can usually run the mile without difficulty, but no man in his right senses would try to do this in his 50's. It is the same with most other strenuous physical activities.

More sleep is often needed by the person in the late 30's or early 40's than in the early 20's. Other things are in proportion. This should not be considered abnormal. The body merely needs more rest and time to restore its powers.

A reader recently wrote that she was 47, and although married and having children, held a responsible office position. She stated that she sometimes found it more difficult to keep up with fast dictation than it had been some years before. Now this too probably no reflection of disease.

With two teen-age boys and the other responsibilities of a household and having presumably worked hard for many years, it is certainly not surprising that she should show some fatigue at such an exacting task as the taking of rapid dictation.

The solution—which of course may not be a practical one—would be to cease from undertaking so much, in other words to give up the heavy office work in addition to other duties.

this, it is merely possible to

THE STORY: After Amelia Palmer found her father with his skull crushed by a desk telephone in his library, police learn of a quarrel between the victim and America's dancer, the sculptor Paul Moody. Amelia's father, the wealthy Wendell Palmer, tried to break up his daughter's romance with the artist, and he also had vetted a commission that would win Moody fame for a statue group on a new building. Police detective James Stivers has found fingerprints on the telephone, used as the murder weapon, and he has set out in company with Pete Kelso, another police detective, to search Paul's studio for further prints.

DETECTIVES JAMES STIVERS and Pete Kelso reached Paul Moody's studio as fast as the police car could whisk them through crowded streets where all traffic stopped dead or pulled to the curb as the walls of the oncoming siren pierced the air.

The studio was part of an old warehouse with one room large enough and high enough of ceiling to house the big and little sculptures Paul Moody had turned out, or was working on, or dreaming of.
Alongside and above were his modestly furnished living quarters.
The reception room was merely a corner of the workshop with a big rug, a divan, chairs, the necessary small bar, and a few other comforts for his visitors, clients, or models.

As the invaders from the police department expected, Paul was not at home, and there was some difficulty in finding the arthritic old caretaker. He made still more difficulty about admitting strangers even though Pete Kelso flashed his badge.

The suggestion that Paul Moody was wanted for a murder sent the old man into a fit of cackling laughter at the idiocy of the police and Kelso's particular nonsense in imagining that Mr. Moody could and complicated problems which may face the person in the so-called middle years of life. In general, it can only be said that even in the absence of any disease, there is a slowing down of the vital processes. This makes it more difficult to engage in all the activities which could be carried out easily in the vigorous 20's.

A conscious recognition of this fact and adjustment to the inability to carry so many burdens is desirable in the middle years.

questions from his readers in a special column once a

The big model of a group for the National Electric Building had a funeral meaning since it would never be finished and it had already led its creator into the toils of justice.

Stivers recognized the medallion of Azalea Palmer by its beauty and its aliveness. A pang woke in his heart for her. He had held her hands in his and had looked into her pitifully pathetic and bewildered eyes.

But Kelso was drawn more to the figures of nude or half-draped women. In that field, he gloat-ingly boasted to Stivers, he was a "connoisseur." As he pronounced the word it sounded more like "corner sewer," and Stivers grunted that he was probably right.

Stivers knew that Kelso had been attached to the vice squad, and he wondered how much longer its sickening corruptions could be concealed from the public.

Stivers had heard the name of one particularly zealous "fallen woman," Nelda Croft, linked with that of Pete Kelso. She was a great one for compromising rich men and making them poorer, and there had been whispers—or grunts—that Kelso had engineered some of her shake-downs.

THE thought flashed into Stivers' mind: "Maybe Kelso is sore because Paul Moody bumped off old Wendell Palmer before he and Nelda could shake the old man down."

Then he reminded himself that all this was none of his business.
His business was to collect the fingerprints of Paul Moody, and he could see that there was no end to them.

There would be the prints of other people, too: guests, models, the caretakers; but on the first unfinished clay statue in front of him he felt sure that there must be the sculptor's prints and no other.

There were balls of damp clay that Paul had kneaded before stuffing them into their places in the armatures. There were soft spots where one palm had rested while the other hand was busy with its magic.

The Legionnaires of both World War I and World War II were presented and enjoyed comparing experiences in the two wars.

A program was presented during the evening as follows: Two piano selections by Edwin Danforth; reading, Mrs. Emery Meyers; and voice solos by Mrs. Edwin Danforth.

HAIR SHORT FOR SPRING

A return to the sculptured look of the Clara Bow era in 1930's Spring hair styles is the forecast of Eddie Sens, make-up man and hair style consultant.

Although next Spring's hair styles will follow the general trend of the flapper era, femininity will be a major factor in hair-dos with more softness apparent than was evident in the severely styled hair-dos of two decades ago.

The Clara Bow or "helmet" coiffure, as it'll be known this Spring, features sleekness, with the hair caressing the face and front, and a short bang over the left temple in place of the decliningly popular center bang. Although the hair in back will be worn straight, there'll be no return to the shingled bob of the 1920's.

There will be an almost as popular alternate hair-do this Spring, which was created especially for those who aren't able to favor the face framing style.

For these women, the hair will be brought up away from the face in front with a miniature bang over the left temple. The straight but unshingled back of the "helmet" cut will be carried through in this simple variation which, like the Clara Bow type hair-do will feature simplicity, form fittingness and sleekness.

Sleekness, the essential smoothness of these head hugging hair fashions can be achieved through the use of a gentle fixative, to keep every hair in place.

ACCESSORIES CAN FOCUS ON GLOVES THIS SPRING

For Spring '50—accessories in the finest of leathers set an elegant mood for the cocktail hour. Long, washable, hand-sewn doeskin gloves reflect the fashion influence of the twenties. Jewelry which is opulent enough to be real completes the costume.

Spring accessories are designed for elegance.

Naked shoes, fake jewelry opulent enough to be real, longer gloves of fine leather, and hand-somely detailed handbags are all feminine, flattering and slightly reminiscent of the twenties.

And, as in the twenties, this season's accessories have been created for drama. They make the most of a costume or a personality.

Gloves may well be the focal point of your costume this Spring, particularly since top ready-to-wear designers have concentrated their attention upon sleeves. And the new gloves make the most of the new sleeves.

In the Spring collection, the new gloves have been designed with an eye to sleeve treatments. A very brief glove goes with the brief sleeve so becoming to younger women. A suit glove, designed especially with the new short-sleeved suit in mind, is also short. This glove covers the wrist, bares the arm to the elbow, and is so designed that the wrist treatment carries out the width of the new tulip sleeve.

Long Gloves Too

A coat glove, which goes equally well with short sleeves, or with the loose, wide kimono sleeve, is slightly longer, elegantly detailed and slit at the wrist to give a graceful flare at mid-arm.

The long glove is stressed for afternoon and cocktail wear. Many of this type of glove designs depend upon color and extravagant length of leather for effect. They range from elbow to shoulder length.

One of the smartest color coordinations for Spring is matching gloves and ready-to-wear with bag and shoes in a contrasting shade. In addition to color and length, however, you should consider the texture interest of your accessories and ready-to-wear this Spring.

Team Up

For instance, glove gloves teamed with calf shoes and bag, provide interesting contrast for rough country tweeds. Soft doeskin gloves and velvety suede in shoes and bag are the perfect complement to rich, glossy satins and taffeta. Handsewn doeskin gloves, medium-heeled suede shoes and a boxy suede bag accentuate the rough texture of fleece or casual tweeds.

But, whatever your wardrobe plans for Spring, remember that new accessories mean drama for new clothes, or for last season's left-overs.

Why Brannan Wants His Plan

DENVER, March 7—(P)—Farm price supports are pricing eggs and milk out of the reach of many Americans, Secretary of Agriculture Brannan said last night.

"We must get eggs to market at a fair price or tell American farmers to quit producing them," he told the National Farmers Union convention.

The Farmers Union presented Brannan its 1949 award for outstanding service to American agriculture for his farm program. It would substitute direct payments to farmers for price supports.

The per capita consumption of milk is not far from its depression level, Brannan said, while the government has the equivalent of two to two and a half billion pounds of whole milk it bought to keep prices high.

Americans ate 11 eggs less per capita last year than in 1948, he said, yet the government has about 210 million dozen eggs stored in caves.

Brannan cited these as two examples of why his plan should be adopted.

Court Fight Looms Over Flynn Children

SANTA MONICA, Calif., March 7—(P)—A court fight loomed today over custody of the children of Errol Flynn and his ex-wife, Nora Eddington Haymes.

Mrs. Haymes filed suit yesterday for full custody of their two children, Rory, 3, and Deidre, 5, Flynn immediately said he would fight the suit.

Mrs. Haymes, now married to singer Dick Haymes, also asked for an increase in the allowance for the children from $150 to $385 a month.

She was given legal custody of both children in their Nevada divorce a year ago, but Flynn was granted physical custody of Rory. She has had both girls with her since Flynn went to Europe last summer and yesterday stated it would be harmful to separate the girls now.

Flynn, charging he had not been permitted to see the children since his return, said he would demand that Rory be restored to him. Mrs. Haymes' counsel denied Flynn's charge that he had not seen the children.

Look For Cut in Unemployment

By Charles Molony

WASHINGTON, March 7—(P)—Government officials today looked for a decline in unemployment this month from the total reached in February. That was the highest jobless total since August, 1941, and 36 per cent higher than in February 1949.

Actually, the number of job opportunities increased by 6,000 from January to February, but that didn't begin to take care of the 210,000 new job seekers, including midwinter school graduates.

Census bureau figures issued yesterday measured the result as a 204,000 increase in unemployment—not counting the striking coal miners—despite the simultaneous increase in civilian jobs to 56,953,000.

The jobs or employment total included strikers just as it did others having jobs but temporarily absent from work because of illness, vacations, short layoffs, etc.

School of the Ozarks Officer Is Club Speaker

M. Graham Clark, Jr., vice president of the School of the Ozarks at Point Lookout was the guest speaker Monday afternoon at the Sorosis meeting at the Heard Memorial club house, talking on the subject nearest his heart, "The School of the Ozarks."

It was more than 40 years ago that this school was started down in the Ozarks to give boys and girls there an opportunity for a high school education as well as the training to do things with their hands, the speaker said. And there have been times when they wondered where the money to carry on would come from but always in some manner it came.

In the School of the Ozarks, Mr. Clark said, may be found boys and girls of all religions. And whatever their religion might be it plays a very definite part in their lives. They look like young people of any other school but there is one thing in common. They are from poor parents, he said, for no boy or girl with money is admitted to the school. They are not interested in family trees, the speaker said. But these people of the Ozark country have the purest strain of Anglo-Saxon blood in America. Their lives are morally clean, he said, and there chivalry still lives.

Illustrated Point With Story

In illustrating that point Mr. Clark told the story of an orphaned Chicago boy, who was taken into the school and who came to him frightened from threats of the other boys. When Mr. Clark learned what the trouble was he found that the orphan boy had whistled at some of the girls and called them "dames," which, he explained, was what they did in Chicago. But the boys of the School of the Ozarks had resented it and threatened the new boy.

The year around school teaches, in addition to the high school subjects, how to do things, Mr. Clark said. The girls are taught to sew, weave, cook, can food and many other things, he said, while the boys grow the things to eat, plow and harvest crops, milk and care for a Jersey herd, raise hogs, turkeys and various other things for food. They help to build the buildings, getting rock from the quarry. From this training has come a great many contractors, one of them a girl, he said.

In telling of the girl who was the head of a large contracting business, he said that she had never seen any water except the spring near her home until she went to the school and did not know how to turn on the faucet.

Trained For Work

Part of these young people return to their homes, he said. The boys become farmers and the girls make excellent wives. But many also go to the cities, some with real success stories and all with fine useful lives. They have been trained for any line of work they care to follow. Secretarial work, art, music and many other things that give them the foundation of knowing how by doing.

The scholarships for the year cost $180 and are given by different individuals and organizations. The young people work for the remainder of the scholarship, Mr. Clark said. The buildings, too, have been given, some by people who ask their names not be used. "We never pray for money," Mr. Clark said. "We only pray for blessings and that somehow always takes care of the needs."

Many Are Orphans

The ages average from 12 to 22 years and about 40 per cent of the young people are orphans, Mr. Clark said. They like to see things grow, he said, and they have a canning factory on the campus where they not only can food for their own use but to sell. They work 16 hours a week and sometimes work extra hours for things they want. For these, Mr. Clark pointed out, teaches them that they must work for things in later life and gives them a greater appreciation of what they have. "We teach them," he said, "not only how to make a living, but how to live."

March Winds Really Blowing

The March wind was really showing off today. You couldn't hardly stand up against it. Dirt blew in your eyes, hats blew off and skirts wouldn't stay down.

One man had his hat lifted off his head, it went straight up about 20 feet. He decided it would do no good to chase it and then suddenly it came on down again to settle itself peacefully in an alley just a few steps away.

There was a loud clanging of something on West Third street in the 100 block about noon which turned out to be three tin cans going merrily down the street with the wind. At Fourth street and Ohio avenue, was a huge piece of tin about seven feet long and nearly as wide, that had blown off of something and was right at the intersection. Things of all kinds were blowing everywhere and everybody was glad enough to get wherever they were going and into shelter.

Chrysler Rejects Bid From UAW

DETROIT, March 7—(AP)—Chrysler Corp., rejected Monday a bid from the CIO United Auto Workers for company officials to take part in a mass meeting of striking Chrysler workers here tomorrow.

"The strike can be settled around the bargaining table," the company told Norman Matthews, the union's Chrysler director.

Robert W. Conder, director of labor relations for Chrysler, declared the company already had fully informed employees of its stand.

Chrysler has offered to pay pensions of $100 a month, including

Two Found Dead In Tourist Cabin

ST. LOUIS, March 7—(AP)—A man and woman were found in a tourist cabin Monday, apparently of carbon monoxide poisoning.

The woman was identified by police as Dorothy Lee, 26, of suburban Richmond Heights. Her parents were said to live at Mammoth Spring, Ark.

The man was tentatively identified as O. L. Michaelson, 28, of Rushville, Neb.

Officials said a gas heater apparently had used up all the oxygen in the cabin.

Offer Surplus Dried Eggs, Milk

WASHINGTON, March 7—(AP)—The government Monday offered surplus dried eggs and dried milk free of charge to private relief agencies helping the needy at home and abroad.

Early last month the agriculture department placed these commodities on a give-away list for the school lunch program, the bureau of Indian affairs and federal, state and local public welfare agencies.

Surplus potatoes have been on a free list for both public and private welfare agencies since mid-January.

Butter may be the next surplus commodity to be made available for relief use.

These commodities were acquired by the department under its farm price support program. The government now has more than $4,000,000,000 tied up in excess farm supplies.

The department said public welfare agencies took about 500,000 pounds of dried eggs and 1,500,000 pounds of dried milk between February 8, when they were put on the free list, and March 1.

He also denied that the Soviet-sponsored East German government expects to obtain a separate peace treaty from Russia—unless the allies first conclude such a pact with the Bonn republic.

WASHINGTON, March 6—(AP)—John L. Lewis today offered a $1,000,000 loan to the CIO Auto Workers as aid in the seven-week Chrysler strike.

Lewis' letter said the UMW hopes other unions in the CIO and the AFL will extend money aid "to the end that your union may be assured, beyond peradventure, of success in its present struggle."

Lewis' offer was regarded as a response to the $500,000 gift check which CIO President Philip Murray sent to the UMW in the

This Town is Literally 'Undermined'

The town of Picher, Okla. (pop. 5000), faces the unsettling fact that a large area of its downtown section may collapse at any time into a giant mine cavern tunneled 250 feet below its surface. At right is an airview of the abandoned mine and downtown Picher, showing the weakest section where big cracks have already appeared in the streets. Below is one of the huge stone mine pillars, sole supports of Picher, that mining engineers have warned are shifting dangerously. Residents in a five-square-block area have been advised to move out within a month. But many refused to be alarmed. At right below, some Picher citizens look over the cracking main street and chat about the possibilities of a cave-in.

Lowest Gas Tax In Nation

Smith Declares In Furtherance Of Increase In State

COLUMBIA, Mo., March 7—(AP)—Gov. Forrest Smith charged Monday night the opponents of a 4-cent gasoline tax are using gasoline profits to raise a slush fund for their campaign.
His statement was part of a speech at an Optimist club dinner here—one of a series he is making over the state. The four cent tax, with revenue from one cent pledged for rural roads, comes before the voters at a special referendum election April 4.
The governor noted that Missouri's present two cent tax is the lowest in the nation. But gasoline prices are not much lower than in neighboring states with higher taxes, he said.
He quoted from a Missouri Petroleum Association bulletin opposing the tax increase and added:
"They are using your money that you are now paying in overpriced gasoline to raise a slush fund to fight your state. The profits they refer to come from you. It's their own admission that they are charging Missourians a premium price for gas and that they intend to continue doing it if they can get away with it."
"I am getting tired of having the oil interest make suckers of Missourians and I hope you are in the same frame of mind. x x" Charge Misrepresentation

Smith accused opponents of "spreading bald faced falsehoods all over this state" about the new law. He denied that any change would be made in the present system of refunds for farm used gasoline, or that the new revenue would be turned over to county courts.

"These are typical of the campaign of deliberate lies being circulated by these selfish interests," he said.
Smith estimated one-sixth of the people in Missouri are still mud-bound. Rural roads must be improved, he said, to make the consolidation of rural schools successful.

"Why, in several north Missouri counties the school children are being transported to school in horse drawn hacks and old fashioned cowboys, believe it or not," he said.

Besides improving rural roads, Smith said the extra money would give the state funds to match $31,000,000 in federal aid and bring about 4,500 miles of the major highway system up to date. Some of the money also will be used on city trafficway construction, he said.

Important Big Seven Tilts Start

Three Battles Will Settle Championship

By Skipper Patrick

KANSAS CITY, March 7—(AP)—The first of three battles that will settle the big seven conference basketball championship comes off at Lawrence Kas., tonight.

Principals in this game will be the Kansas State Wildcats and the University of Kansas Jayhawks.

Each has a record of seven victories and three losses in Big Seven play. The winner goes into a tie for the lead with Nebraska (8-3).

Final disposition of the championship won't be settled until Saturday night when Nebraska and Kansas State play at Manhattan, Kas., and Kansas and Oklahoma meet in Norman, Okla.

NCAA, Playoff March 20

An undisputed Championship will send the titlist into the fifth district national collegiate (NCAA) playoff game with Bradley at Kansas City March 20. In event of a tie the representative will be named by the district selection committee.

Kansas State has defeated Kansas in two previous meetings this season, beating the Jayhawks in the December Big Seven tournament and at Manhattan in league play.

Kansas will rule as a slight favorite tonight. The Jayhawks' great sophomore center, Clyde Lovellette, has been unstoppable on his home court.

Kansas State will get only limited services from its ace, Clarence Brannum, who has picked up 25 pounds in weight—he now weighs 235 pounds—since injuring a foot several weeks ago.

WON GAMES

Colorado and Missouri each won games last night.

Colorado won its last home game under the coaching of Frosty Cox, 58-49, over Oklahoma. In winning Colorado (6-5) took over fourth place in the standings and dropped Oklahoma a notch.

Oklahoma has a 5-6 record. Cox's retirement became effective at the end of the season.

Missouri established a new school scoring record in dropping Iowa State, 74-59, at Columbia. The old record of 73 points was against Michigan State earlier this season.

Iowa State, playing its last game of the season, also came up with a record as its Dudley Ruisch brought his scoring total for the campaign to 216 points. Jack Fleming set the old Cyclone mark of 213 in 1936. The Cyclones are down at the bottom of the Big Seven standings.

Little bud Heineman led Missouri's well balanced attack with 21 points. Ruisch got 17 for Iowa State.

Missouri ends its season against Colorado at Columbia Saturday.

They Listen to Casey Stengel

By Jack Hand

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 7—(AP)—They laughed when Casey Stengel picked his New York Yankees 1-2-3 last spring. Now they listen when he says "we're the team to beat."

Old Case "sells" the Yanks like the medicine shows used to peddle pills for what ails you. Pretty soon you buy, even if you don't want any.

"Sure we're the team to beat," said Stengel out of the side of his mouth, adding a confidential wink.

"But I think all my players realize this is 1950," he said, "we won the World Championship last year. Now it's all got to be done again."

"I respect Boston first. Detroit is stronger, too. Cleveland, I don't get too much of a line on. Philadelphia may need more surplus. Chicago should be stronger and St. Louis we don't know."

Whether by design or oversight, he didn't mention Washington, now managed by the ex-Yank skipper Bucky Harris.

"They'll all be laying for us, said Casey, "different than last spring when you fellows all picked us fifth. But we ought to be a little better."

"Joe DiMaggio looks better right now than he did last season, no bad heel, no aches and pains, no virus."

Site And Dates For Golden Horse Show

KANSAS CITY, March 8—(AP)—The American Golden Saddle Horse Show association will hold its national all-golden show this year at Springfield, Mo. The show dates are Oct. 6, 7, and 8.

The site and dates were announced by Russell Lundy, Des Moines, Iowa, secretary of the association, following a meeting here yesterday. Approximately 100 members attended the meeting.

Lundy said the national show would be sponsored jointly by the association and a Springfield civic club. He said the civic club would be named Thursday.

He also said the Golden association is planning to co-sponsor four district shows in various sections of the country.

WHAT A PUNCH—Stan Musial demonstrates power of hands and wrists to Cardinals' coach Tony Kaufmann in St. Petersburg, Fla., training camp. The three-time National League batting champion is again happy to contribute his remarkable batting punch to the St. Louis attack.

All Kinds of Gimmicks to Make The Fishermen Drool

ST. LOUIS, March 7—(AP)—A current display at Kiel auditorium may give some satisfaction to the cynic who insists that fishing lures are designed to catch the fishermen and not the fish.

But it's still enough to make the average fisherman drool. There are racks of the revolutionary glass casting rods with the whip of a coiled spring. And the strength of steel, their manufacturers say.

They claim, in fact, that in another year or so 75 per cent of all new casting rods will be made of the spun glass.

In other equipment, there are gimmicks galore—rubber sinkers, multiple-purpose bobbers, plastic waders, life-saver minnow buckets, cross-wind reels, fluorescent finishes and fly-tying tools.

Life Saver
Makers of the life-saver minnow bucket claim it will hold a man at water surface should his boat tip or sink. It's an improvement on the old floater-type pail.

The plastic waders weigh two pounds, sell for less than the conventional type. And you wear shoes with them. Rubber in appearance, the waders fit close—like a long pair of underwear—and slip under the armpits, held there by suspenders.

Tennis shoes are recommended to protect feet from the rocks. When not in use, the waders can be rolled up into a packet and slipped into the glove compartment of your car.

Both plugs and flies are featured in the new fluorescent styling. One manufacturer says his fluorescent lures are "500 per cent brighter" than commonplace lures.

Alfie-Like Frog
In rubber lures, there's a life-like frog for both casting and fly fishing. Nylon threads made it "swim" naturally on retrieve.

And there's a wet fly that eliminates the use of pork rind. Thin strips of white rubber are tied into the body and protrude from the tail.

On exhibition also is a 5-horsepower outboard motor, with a reverse gear, that makes about as much noise as trolling speed as a pair of electric clippers.

There are scores of new-style boats, of all descriptions, including the poor man's cabin cruiser. The display, known as the St. Louis Sports, Travel and Boat Show, continues through Mar. 12.

Reds Have Two New Pitchers And Adecock, Big and Fast, May Chase Kluszewski Off First Base

CINCINNATI — (NEA) — Ted Kluszewski is just at the point in his development where he promises to blossom into a top-flight major league star, yet men who know baseball best tell you young Joe Adecock will run him off first base for the Reds.

Adecock, a rangy, powerful, 22-year-old speedster from Louisiana State, made 178 hits in 149 games with the Tulsa Oilers last season and 112 were for extra bases.

In the all important runs batted in column he totaled a very satisfactory 116.

Adecock's speed and grace in the field gives him a bulge over Kluszewski. He moves at an incredible rate for a young man of his size—six feet four inches and 210 lbs.—will be one of the fastest men in the Cincinnati party. He stole 18 bases in the Texas league.

Smith Relief Worker
Luke Sewell is also looking forward to inspecting Pitchers Harry Perkowski and 21-year-old Frank Smith.

"Perkowski has a good chance of developing into one of the best left handers ever produced in the International league," says Frank Shaughnessy, president of the Triple A circuit.

Perkowski won eight games for Syracuse while dropping two from late July on. He had two straight shutouts, 28 scoreless innings. He turned in a pair of five-hitters against the Giants and Braves after being recalled last September.

With Class A Columbia, S. C., in 1948, Smith racked up 21 victories against only six defeats, pitched 17 complete games, posted a brilliant earned-run average of 2.39.

Because he owns a rubber arm, Smitty was tagged for relief work by Tulsa skipper Al Vincent early in '49, but soon worked into a starting role. He appeared in 57 games, won 17, lost 11, pitched 15 complete contests, saved innumerable others. There were low hitters among them.

Manager Sewell hopes the six-foot three-inch right hander will give the Redlegs the kind of relief pitching needed to back up a potentially fine staff.

Bobby Usher, who will be 25 the day he reports, March 1, is a good outfielder with a fine arm. The late Jewel Ens, who guided the Syracuse club, liked him. He hit no more than .287, but had a lot of trouble. His average dropped 25 points after one of his twin daughters had an operation.

Sammy Meeks, also up from Syracuse, plays shortstop and second base, so is slated to be a utility infielder.

Dozen Teams All Set For Invitational

Big Derby Opens This Saturday at Madison Sq. Garden

By Will Grimsley

NEW YORK, March 7—(AP)—The National Invitation basketball tournament had its round dozen teams today—an imposing array that includes six of the nation's top ten and nine of the first twenty.

Seeding and the draw were the only preliminary requirements left for the big dribble derby opening Saturday afternoon at Madison Square Garden.

The invitation completed its star-studded lineup by lassoing a couple of teams from around home—upstate Niagara and CCNY—and reaching all the way across the continent for Arizona, ranked 15th nationally.

Already in the Fold
Already in the fold were Bradley, No. 1 in the final Associated Press poll; Kentucky, No. 3; Duquesne, No. 6; Western Kentucky, No. 8; St. John's of Brooklyn, No. 9, and LaSalle, No. 10.

From the second ten in the national rankings were plucked San Francisco, defending champion at 12th, and Long Island University, No. 13, to go along with Arizona.

The remaining contender, Syracuse University, like Niagara and CCNY, failed to place in the first twenty.

The fast NCAA championship tournament, beginning March 23, also is drawing heavily from the select bracket.

Field Uncompleted
Although the eight-team field is not nearly complete, second-ranked Ohio State, four-placed Holy Cross and No. 5 North Carolina State already are chosen—and UCLA, No. 7, is a good possibility.

Also, Bradley and Duquesne may pull off a "double" by playing in both tournaments.

The eastern NCAA eliminations are scheduled at Madison Square Garden here March 23, 25. The western phase of the tournament is at Kansas City March 24-25. The finals are scheduled at the Garden March 28.

Dates of the invitation are March 11, 13, 14, 16, 18.

The Situation
Here is the situation in the five districts yet to choose NCAA representatives:

District 2—Princeton, the Ivy League champ, favored, with such teams as Duquesne, St. John's and LaSalle possibilities.

District 5—Bradley, Missouri Valley champion, to meet the Big Seven champion (Kansas State, Kansas or Nebraska) in a playoff at Kansas City March 20.

District 6—Baylor, Arkansas, Arizona and Houston in the running.

District 7—Brigham Young, Syklone Six champion, a cinch.

District 8—Between UCLA and Washington State, divisional leaders of the Pacific Coast conference, who meet in a playoff.

600 Athletes To Track Meet

CHICAGO, March 7—(AP)—More than 600 athletes from 11 universities and 32 colleges are entered Saturday in the 19th annual Illinois Tech relays, generally regarded as the nation's biggest indoor meet of the season.

The meet will be run off in two divisions, with Purdue defending the university title and Michigan Normal seeking its seventh championship of the college bracket.

Teams in the university class include Drake, Illinois, Iowa, Kansas State, Marquette, Michigan, Missouri, Northwestern, Notre Dame, Purdue and Wisconsin.

Interstate Trapshooting Tournament Opens
KANSAS CITY, March 7—(AP)—The week-long 43rd interstate trapshooting tournament opened here yesterday with competition in the international flyer championship.

Ernest Jelley, Kansas City, knocked 32 of 33 flyers to take a slender lead in the first round of the championship.

Nebraska Defeats Kansas In Big Seven Dual Tank
LINCOLN, Neb., March 8—(AP)—Nebraska defeated Kansas 50-34 yesterday for its second Big Seven dual tank victory over the Jayhawks this season.

Mat Action Here Wednesday Night

Lee Henning of Buffalo, N. Y. and Viv Holbrook, Hollywood, Calif., will have 90-minutes to grapple this Wednesday night in the Sedalia ring to ascertain who is the better of the two.

On last wrestling night in Sedalia, the two battled to a 45-minute draw. Fans wanted the bout to continue at the time, but the time limit concluded the event.

The two giants will no doubt provide plenty of thrills and mat action as they will be fighting hard to maintain a good reputation in this area.

Marshall Esteppe Sturgeon, Mo., and Ellis Bashara, Austin, Tex., will climb in the ring in the semi-final event, for a two out of three fall match.

The special or opening event brings to Sedalia a former amateur who appeared in the Olympics is Ray Gunkel of Chicago. He will match wits with Jack "Gashouse" Hader of Kansas City, who has been referring the local matches the past two years.

The third man in the ring for the night will be Harry Cohen of Kansas City. The mat action will start at the Sedalia Armory, Ninth street and Ohio avenue at 8:30 o'clock, this Wednesday night. The matches are sponsored by the American Legion Post 16.

Big League Training Camp Briefs

By The Associated Press

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 7—(AP)—Fred Sanford, Wally Hood and Don Johnson, in that order, will handle the pitching chores for the New York Yankees next Saturday when the world champions meet the St. Louis Cardinals in the first exhibition game.

The trio—all right-handers—took part in yesterday's drill and showed to advantage.

To Hurl For Giants
PHOENIX, Ariz., March 7—(AP)—Handsome Jack Kramer, obtained from the Boston Red Sox will take his first turn on the mound for the New York Giants tomorrow.

The ex-American leaguer, determined to make the Red Sox rue the sale, will hurl in part of the Giants' batting practice.

Brechee Predicts a Better Job
ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 7—(AP)—Southpaw pitcher Harry Brechee predicts he will do much better this year than last when he won 14 games and lost 11 for the St. Louis Cardinals.

He hopes to come back to 1948 form when he won 20 and lost seven. Harry took a turn on the mound in batting practice yesterday and said he felt great. He attributed his 1949 slump to a bruised left index finger suffered on opening day.

Opens Intra-Squad Game
BURBANK, Calif., March 7—(AP)—With a full week of training behind, the St. Louis Browns were slated to open an intra-squad series of games today.

Manager Zack Taylor said every man on the 25-player squad would see action in the first contest.

Good Word For Tigers
LAKELAND, Fla., March 7—(AP)—President Will Harridge of the American league has a good word for the Detroit Tigers.

On a visit here the prexy told Manager Red Rolfe "your club looks a lot stronger" but he added that so do most of the other teams in the league.

It was Harridge's "personal guess" that five teams would fight for the flag—Boston, New York, Detroit, Cleveland and Philadelphia.

Braves Are Nation's Top Cage Team

Bradley Meets Big Seven Champ On March 20

By John Chandler

NEW YORK, March 7—(AP)—The Braves of Bradley University were an overwhelming choice today as the nation's No. 1 college basketball team in the final Associated Press poll of the season.

Now all the classy clut from Peoria, Ill., has to do is show the basketball public that the nation's sports writers and broadcasters were right in hoisting them to the pinnacle via the ballot.

Bradley, with a 27-3 record, gets its chance to do just that in the National Invitation Tournament beginning Saturday at Madison Square Garden. In addition, the Peoria Lads have further opportunity to cement their claims in National College Athletic Association competition.

Bradley will meet the winner of the Big Seven Conference title—either Nebraska, Kansas State or Kansas—March 20 at Kansas City for the right to represent District 5 in the NCAA western regional tourney March 24-25.

Bradley Takes 90 Votes
With a total of 206 votes cast—largest number of the season in the weekly AP poll—Bradley topped 90 first place ballots, and a total of 1,802 points.

Ohio State, which captured the Big Ten crown and wound up with a 19-3 record, remained in second place with 1,435 points.

Kentucky, moving fast now after a shaky start this year, moved into third place in the final poll. Kentucky was fourth last week, and in a close point battle with Holy Cross, dumped the Crusaders from third to fourth.

Kentucky won the 1949 AP poll after completing a 29-1 record. The top teams (first place votes in parentheses and records including Saturday's games with points on 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis):

Friday and Saturday
MANHATTAN, Kas., March 7—(AP)—Forty wrestlers from five Big Seven schools are scheduled to be here Friday and Saturday for the Big Seven conference wrestling meet.

Oklahoma University is rated the favorite, while defending champion Nebraska is classed as a dark horse.

Kansas and Missouri do not compete in the wrestling meet.

Predictions of Kentucky Coach Were Right
NEW YORK, March 7—(AP)—Adolph Rupp, Kentucky basketball coach, was right. Last Nov. 8, before the season started, he predicted in Chicago that Bradley would be the No. 1 cage team this year.

Today Bradley was so ranked in the final Associated Press poll of the season.

Since 1775, United States Marines have made more than 200 landings on foreign shores.

My Biggest Boner

By Tink Riviere
Former Cardinals' Pitcher

I was a recruit pitcher from Texas with the St. Louis Cardinals at Chicago's Wrigley Field in April, 1921.

I started the third game of the season.

We were leading until the seventh or eighth inning. The Cubs got two men on and up came Max Flack. Pickles Dillhoefer gave me the sign for the change of pace.

Flack hit the ball over the right field fence on top of a brown house. That's how well I remember where he hit it. The Cubs led, 4-3, after that.

Branch Rickey, then managing the Cardinals, jumped and mentioned violently for me to come out of the game. He was waving his hands like a windmill. He signaled Catcher Dillhoefer to come out, too, sent in an entire new battery.

"Judas! Priss, Riviere, don't you know Flack is the best change-of-pace hitter in baseball!" said Rickey, when I got to the bench.

"Mr. Rickey, I don't know Flack from Flick," I replied. "The first time I ever saw him was the day before yesterday."

You should have heard him snort. Rickey took Dillhoefer out because he called for the change-up. Troubled by neuritis, I later pitched in the Texas league but what happened in Chicago will do as my biggest boner in baseball.

"ACE OF ACES" was the name earned in 1918 by Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker, formerly noted as a daredevil auto racer. One of few Americans to emerge as a hero from both World Wars, Rickenbacker also carved a brilliant civilian career in aviation. During World War I, as America's top ace, he shot down 26 German planes. In October, 1942, while on a secret mission for the Air Force, his plane was forced down in the Pacific. He and seven fellow fliers lived through 23 tortuous days on rubber rafts before all but one were rescued. Now head of a major airline, Rickenbacker still devotes much time to imparting his tremendous faith and courage to fellow veterans, particularly the disabled, and to a world sadly in need of inspiration.

Count Gives An Address On Communism

Adventurer Is The Speaker Before Rotary Forum

The third of a series of Rotary International Forum lectures was given at Smith-Cotton high school Monday night with Count de Rencourt, journalist, naval officer, intelligence operative and adventurer, addresses the audience with his subject, "Penetrating Forbidden Tibet and Adventures in India and Afghanistan."

D. S. Lamm presided over the meeting and the Rev. T. W. Croxton gave the invocation.

The Sedalia Men's Choral club under the direction of Abe Rosenthal and with accompanist Miss Lillian Fox appeared before the Count Rencourt's address and sang two selections.

Count Rencourt open his address by giving the audience an outline of his lecture and telling them of his conception of Communism in its various forms and degrees.

The count brought out his contention that Communism is a new belief, a new faith that the people of broken countries cling to with the sincere hope of surviving the pangs of rehabilitation. The speaker then went on to tell of the way Communism had slipped into the various countries of Asia.

Moslems Aloof

He said that in the Moslem countries such as Egypt the Communism regime will never get a foothold. He then explained why the Moslems were so immune to the "new faith". The people in the Moslem countries such as Egypt are now content with their belief in their religion and their ways of political and governmental security. Their religion, according to Count Rencourt seems to be their main weapon in warding off the Communistic evils.

The speaker then told of the conditions that prevail in the other Asiatic countries such as Turkey, Iraq, Indonesia, India and finally China.

He said that the Communists have made their progress in China because the Chinese people are struggling for something to cling to and the new belief of Communism is offering that something. He went on and told of the Communist working that are taking place in that country and of the progress that is being made by the Red dominating forces.

Looks For Break

He said that it would be madness to have the Russians keep things like they are now. He then voiced the opinion that the Communist movement would break away entirely from the Russian governing power soon.

His talk continued with the China situation and finally settled with his topic "of Penetrating Forbidden Tibet." He said that the country of Tibet is one of the easiest countries to defend in Asia. According to Count Rencourt that country is relatively empty when it is compared to its neighbors, India and China.

Isolated In Stronghold

Again he stressed the fact that since the people of Tibet were so very devoted to their religion and are so completely isolated by their stronghold in the mountains that hold the country, it is very unlikely that any Communist influences could creep into the peoples thinking. He brought out that the peoples of Tibet were strongly opposed to the Communist ideals and to the methods that were being employed in the country of turmoil, China.

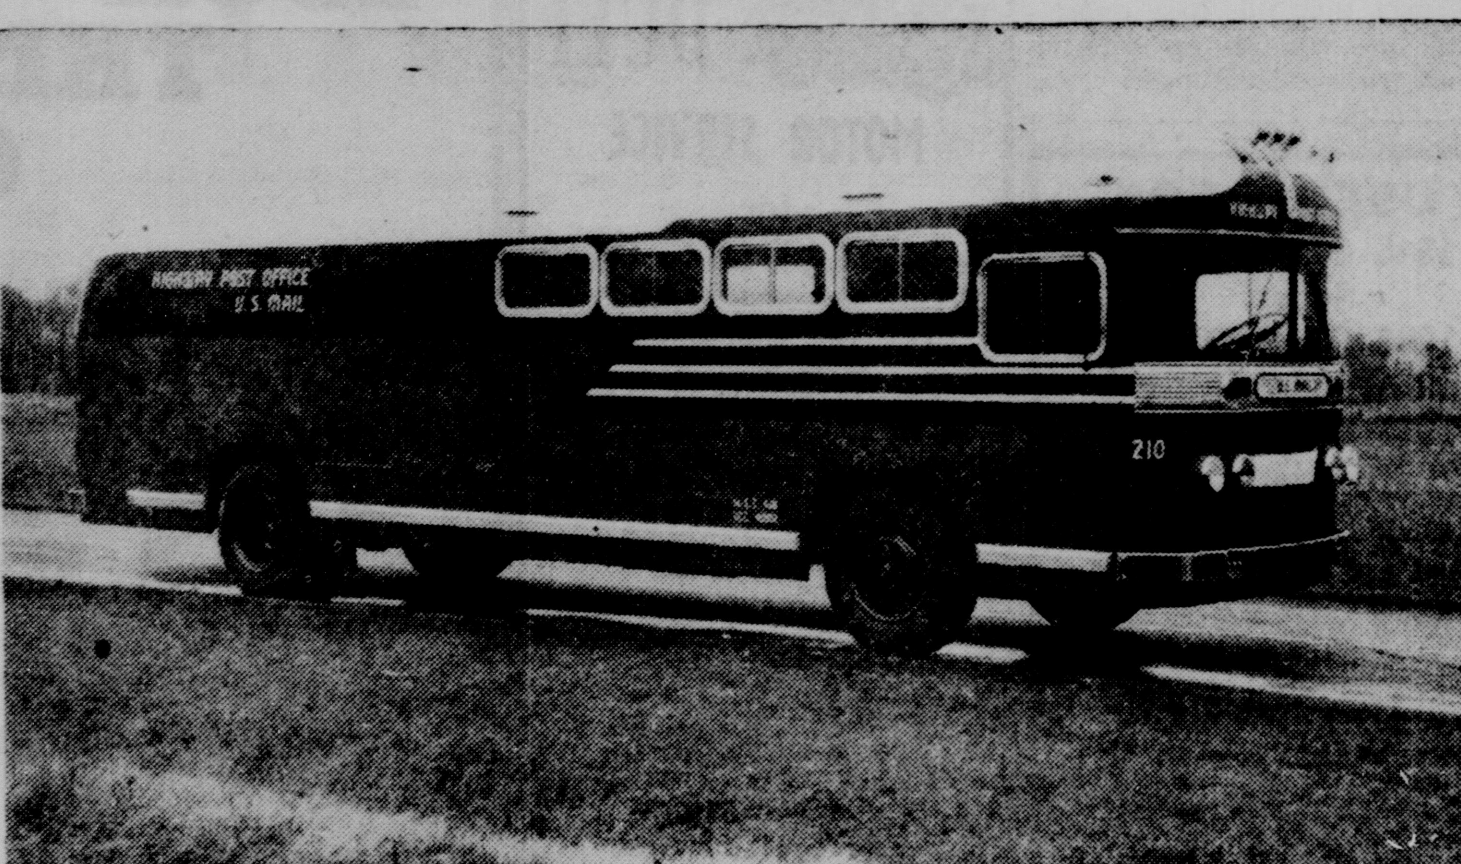

In the question and answer portion of the program Count Rencourt said that "we've got to stop the Communist movement in Asia." He stress the importance of stopping the "new belief" and killing out the things that are brought into being by it.

It can't be done in six months or a year, he said. It will take planning and time.

When asked about the reception he got in Tibet the count said that the difficulty of getting into the country was the greatest obstacle. He told of the trying time he had obtaining a passport and of the trip up over the mountains.

He described the Tibet people of the Forbidden City as very pleasant and hospitable. While

New Innovation in Postal Service

The new coach is similar to the railroad mail cars and will service communities along the route which at the present time do not have railroad mail service. Efforts are being made by communities between Springfield, Sedalia and Des Moines to have a similar mail route established to give a more direct mail service between those cities and communities along the route. The coach was on display in Sedalia last week and cost more than $17,000.

'Prepared to Die'

A smile on his face, Harry A. Burdette (center) volunteered that "I now feel that I am fully prepared to die." He made the comment as he waded from the frigid waters of Sugar Creek near Charleston, W. Va., after an open-air baptism. Burdette, 26, is under sentence to die April 14 for murder. He is helped from the water by the Rev. Byrl Frye (left) and the Rev. Samuel Graley. (AP WIREPHOTO)

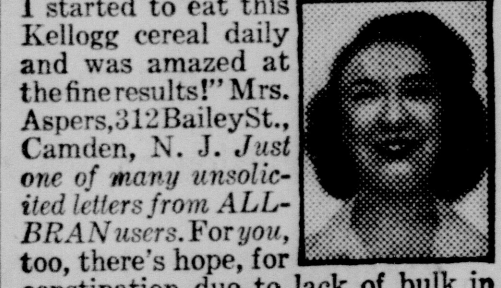

there in the main city of that country he said he called on the various important personages of the government and the "Pope of the Buddhist world", the chief lama.

He said in answer to a question of the foreign policy that is being directed at China: "I can't see any definite trend as to the type of policy that is being used except the main and strong belief of preserving the unity and the independence of China."

Fire-Dust Plagued Wide Areas

Two Traffic Deaths In Kansas Blamed
On Dust Clouds; Visibility is Cut

By the Associated Press
A double-barrelled threat to farmlands—fire and dust—plagued wide areas of the plains states today.

One man, Leroy Little, fire chief of Sunray, Texas, was burned fatally fighting a fire that raged out of control for hours near Dumas, Texas. Another Sunray fireman, Fred Carter, was burned critically.

High winds whipped up dust clouds yesterday over thousands of acres of cropland. Visibility was cut to half a mile in some parts of Texas and New Mexico.

In Kansas, two traffic fatalities were blamed on dust clouds. At Garden City in Western Kansas visibility and ceiling was reported at zero for a 30-minute period. The dust brought back memories of the "black blizzards" of the 1930s because it started blowing so early in the year. However, it is not anywhere near as severe as in 1935 and 1936 when dust storms destroyed thousands of acres of rich cropland and ruined countless farmers.

Cold Air and Snow
A fresh blast of cold air with

TOPEKA, Kas., March 7—(AP)—Dust, mixed with light snow flurries, cut visibility today in western Kansas as it was whipped eastward toward the central part of the state on a persistent wind.

The Wichita weather bureau shortly before noon reported visibility was restricted to less than a block in parts of western Kansas because of blowing dust which started yesterday. The weather bureau there also reported a light snow was falling in much of the western and central Kansas and also in western Nebraska.

A light, brief wet snow cleared the air in Saline county just at the beginning of another dust storm in mid-morning. The wind there was brisk but there was little dust in the air.

drifting snow swept across Eastern Nebraska and headed for the north central states. Blizzard conditions were forecast for the Dakotas and Minnesota.

But the northeastern part of the country had the coldest weather, with temperatures below zero in some parts of New England. Readings were far above normal in the Southern Plains states and the middle Mississippi valley, with temperatures in the 50's as far north as Iowa.

Showers and thunderstorms were reported in the Central Plains states and in the lower Missouri valley. Rain fell in the South Atlantic and East Gulf states northward into Tennessee and Kentucky.

High winds were reported over much of the central part of the country.

Prairie Fires
Yesterday's high winds also sent prairie fires whipping across parts of Texas, Kansas and Nebraska.

In Texas four separate fires blackened thousands of acres of choice ranch and wheatlands. All were in the Texas panhandle.

All these fires were extinguished during the night.

The biggest fire was the one near Dumas.

At one time it raged on a front 15 to 20 miles long through tinder-dry, drought-stricken farmland. Fire fighters, their ranks swelled by volunteers, choked on smoke and dust whipped by high winds. The loss in the Dumas fire alone was unofficially estimated at 100 square miles burned over, numerous outbuildings and livestock, one residence, and a total

Over a Broken Leg
GLENDALF, Calif., March 7—(AP)—"I've broken my leg," explained Wendell Holmes, 53, when police found him lying in the street.

He was rushed yesterday to physicians and surgeons hospital but when the doctors examined him, they withdrew from the case and called a carpenter. Police said Tom forgot to mention that the leg was wooden.

Search Called Off
MIAMI, Fla., March 7—(AP)—The coast guard called off a search today for survivors of a boat explosion and fire after two men aboard the craft reported they spent the night safe at home.

The men were listed as Edward Guthrie, 38, owner of the mallet boat, and his helper John D. Giamoni. They were the only persons aboard.

No Coyote Peace In Los Angeles

LOS ANGELES, March 7—(AP)—It's getting so a respectable coyote can't walk down the street any more. Not in Los Angeles, anyway.

This particular coyote is strolling through the Wilshire district yesterday when folks suddenly start hollering at him. So Melvin Ward, a telephone repairman, shoots the beast into a garage and slams the door.

Today, the critter, a six months old pup, is in solitary at the city pound. He'll be given to the zoo if nobody claims him.

Springfield Is Without Natural Gas

Explosion and Fire Wreck Regulator Station Today

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., March 7—(AP)—An explosion and fire wrecked a regulator station today and left this city of 75,000 without a natural gas supply.

Approximately 7,300 homes depend on gas for heating and other uses. About 50 industrial also use gas but most of them can switch to standby equipment.

The blast and fire destroyed the pumping station—a relay booster plant—and a nearby gasoline service station. No one was injured.

G. Nick Sprong, general manager of City Utilities, said he hoped the break could be repaired in several hours but that it might be several days before the gas flow could be resumed.

The weather forecast calls for a drop in temperatures tonight to 35 or 40 degrees. Gas to hospitals and similar institutions will be turned on first, Sprong said.

The Cities Service company is Springfield's sole supplier of natural gas.

No one was injured in the blast about 2:30 a. m. and the fire. But Mr. and Mrs. Owen Merman and their son, Burrell, who lived in a nearby service station, made a lucky escape minutes before their frame dwelling was demolished.

Sound asleep, unaware their station was afire, they were awakened by a passing motorist, Homer Menzies.

Menzies, a pressman for the Gospel Publishing Co., discovered the blaze as he was on the way to work at 2:20 a. m.

Small Flame at First

"It was just a little flame on the top of a tin roof and it kept growing and growing," Menzies said.

Menzies stopped his car and went to the service station next door. He aroused the Merrimans who got out just before the first explosion at the regulator station through which passes all gas for Springfield.

Menzies then went to the home of Neil Gibson, overseer of the regulator station who lives about a quarter of a mile north of the station. He had already been awakened, however, and was on his way to another station about a mile south to shut off the gas.

"I saw a B-29 full of gasoline explode at the Salina, Kas., air base about two years ago but it didn't make half the flames or explosion this did," Menzies said.

Sprong said it will be two or three days, maybe more, before Springfield is back on gas again.

Help Sent In
The Joplin, Carthage and Monticello gas companies sent help. The big job is to send crews to every home in the city and see that fixtures are turned off before the

Miner Suspended Because He Called Lewis a Dictator

PITTSBURGH, March 7—(AP)—Coal production sped toward normal today in the wake of a month-long soft coal strike.

The coal poured in steady streams from towering mine tips to waiting gondolas and hopper cars that rushed them to fuel-needy areas.

Nearly a third of the idle diggers happily shouldered picks and shovels yesterday. The work return of the 372,000 striking United Mine Workers is expected to be virtually complete today.

Industries, hard hit by the shutdown, quickly threw off the strike-imposed shackles.

Steel firms and railroads recalled thousands of the more than 225,000 workers idled by the coal walkout.

Wheeling Steel Corporation scheduled full scale resumption of production as did other companies which had curtailed because of fuel shortages.

The Chesapeake and Ohio Railway restored dining car service which was eliminated to conserve coal. The C. and O. will resume runs of three branch line trains Friday.

The Interstate Commerce Commission decided to keep in effect its partial ban on coal-burning freight and passenger train service until carriers can build up depleted coal stockpiles.

New York joined other areas in cancelling conservation dimouts. However, the Nation's largest city continued fuel rationing for a time.

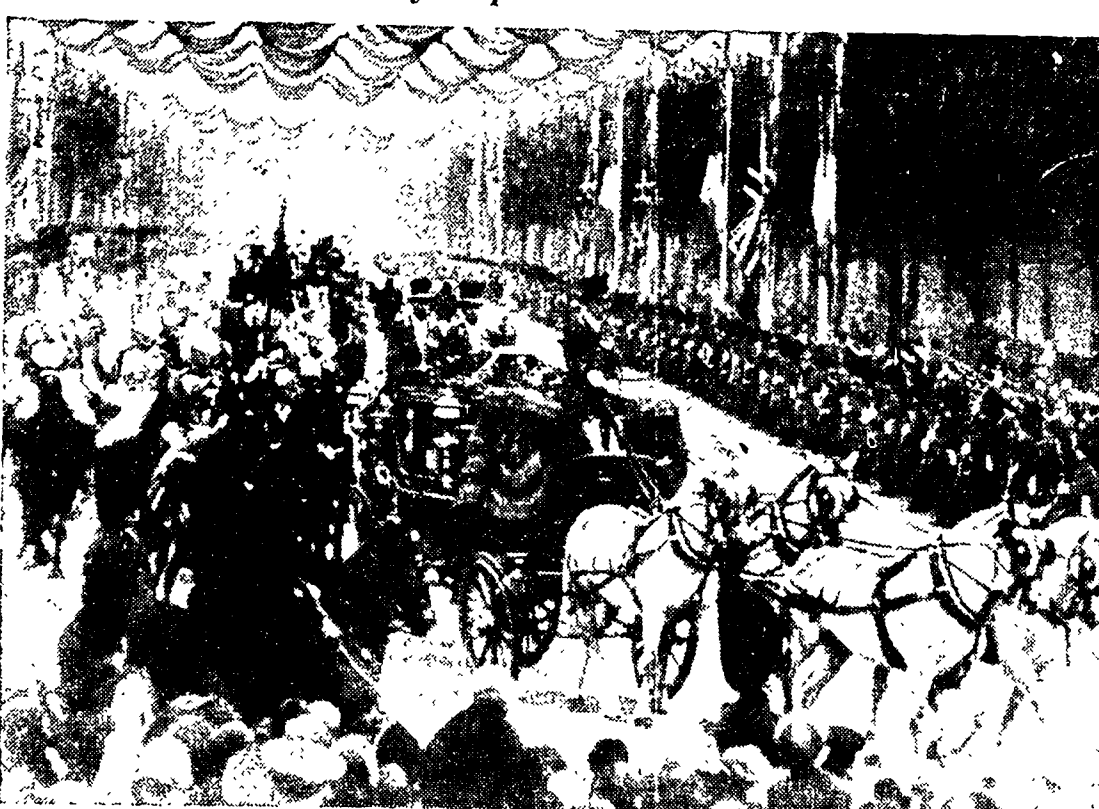

Mine protocol—the need actually to receive and then to vote on official word of the strike's end—delayed work returns in some sections.

The UMW's biggest local—the 2,400 member Robena local in western Pennsylvania—decided to return to the pits at a four-minute meeting last night. Local members who had spearheaded the long walkout summed up their feeling at going back with a deafening "Hurrah!"

But one miner didn't dig any coal and isn't likely to dig any. He is Joseph Dickmon of Liberty, Pa., who was suspended from his UMW local for calling John L. Lewis a "dictator."

"I'm getting out of the mines," Dickmon asserted, "and from under dictatorship—even if I have to dig ditches."

Group Refuses Federal Aid

WASHINGTON, March 7—(AP)—The House Labor committee refused today to approve federal aid for parochial or private school purposes.

By a vote of 16 to 9, it rejected a proposal by Rep. Kennedy (D-Mass.) to extend proposed federal aid to schools to cover bus service for non-public school children.

The committee's action, taken in closed-door meeting, underscored anew the religious dispute over parochial school assistance which has deadlocked House action on a $300,000,000 Senate passed aid to education bill.

It also raised fresh snags in the way of committee approval.

"This definitely means that some of us are not going to be so strong for the bill," Kennedy told reporters afterwards.

"So far as I am concerned I won't vote for the bill."

To Claim He's The Desperado

NEW YORK, March 7—(AP)—The "dirty little coward who shot Mr. Howard" didn't "lay poor Jesse James in his grave" after all—at least that's what an old timer will attempt to show a Missouri court.

Erbe Maybruck, a New York public relations firm handling publicity for a man known as J. Frank Dalton, of Staunton, Mo., said the 102-year oldster is going into Franklin county superior court in Missouri Friday and claim officially that he is America's infamous desperado.

Dalton will be carried into court on a stretcher because of a broken hip suffered about two months ago.

Among the witnesses who will testify from personal knowledge that Dalton is really James, his publicists said, are Col. James R. Davis, 109, former U.S. marshal, present when the outlaw was shot in St. Joseph, Mo., April 3, 1882, and John Trammell, 110, former cook for the outlaw gang.

Jesse James, Jr., a son who is fighting the case, maintains the western ballad about "the dirty little coward" who shot James in the back, is correct.

Auto Accident Fatal to Two

ROLLA, Mo., March 7—(AP)—An automobile accident took the lives of Mr. and Mrs. David N. Neeler, Gary, Ind., on U.S. Highway 66, 13 miles west of here last night.

The elderly couple, both were about 70 years old, were en route to Gary when their automobile went out of control on a curve and overturned several times.

The husband was killed instantly and Mrs. Neeler died as she was being placed in the ambulance.

Authorities said the couple were on their way back to Gary from Arkansas where they had purchased a farm. They had intended to have their household goods shipped to the farm where they planned to live.

Fulton Expects Large Primary Vote

FULTON, Mo., March 7—(AP)—A large vote is expected in the Democratic primary here today.

The nomination for mayor is being sought by two candidates this year for the first time since 1934. They are Raymond Walker and Jack A. Garrett.

In two other races there are four candidates each. They are for city collector and police judge. There are also contests for the four city council posts.

Bridge Over Spring Fork To be Built

8.2 Miles From 65
East to Bahner
To be Resurfaced

Rural road construction in Pettis county will be augmented with the official awarding of a contract by the state highway commission for the grading, a bridge over Spring Fork and surfacing with gravel or crushed stone of 8.2 miles on Route V, from U. S. route 65 east to Route C, at Bahner. This all weather state maintained road will give service to those farm units not previously served.

Federal funds made available under the federal aid highway acts of 1944 and 1948 have been matched with state revenue in order to pay for this construction.

The contractor is Davis Construction Co., Inc., Booneville, Mo. The cost of this improvement on the supplementary (farm to market) system of state highways is approximately $63,584.

Next Road to be Improved
The Pettis county highway commission has mutually agreed with the state highway commission on the next road to be improved in the county. It is 3.3 miles on Route AA from Route 127(A) west.

State highway improvements in the county must, of necessity, consist of either the improving of the existing roads or extensions of the supplementary (farm to market) routes. In either case, the question of available funds is the major factor. It is important that the citizens of Pettis county give every consideration to any plan that is designed to provide additional road revenue.

'Siamese-Twin'
Girls Are Born

SYDNEY, Australia, March 7—(AP)—Dr. John Starr reported today that Siamese twin girls joined at the top of their heads were born to Mrs. Erskine Smith near Burnie, Tasmania, Saturday night.

He said the babies and their mother are doing well but the babies must lie head to head in an extended cot.

"It is as if you stood one head-first on the other," Dr. Starr told a reporter. "The join is about three inches in diameter and is actually formed by the skulls. I cannot see that they can be severed and remain alive."

Except for the joining of heads, the twins were naturally formed, the doctor said.

Rezoning Issue Discussed By The Council

Resolution For Airport Property
Sale Is Passed

There was considerable discussion at the regular meeting of the City Council Monday night, relative to whether or not the council should rezone property on the south side of West Broadway, the two lots east of the southeast corner of Broadway and State Fair boulevard. A petition filed by Dr. L. S. Geiger, owner of the property, to rezone it from a one-family area to a business area, that Richard Dillon, baker and who would purchase the ground erect a building for wholesale and retail business, had been denied by the zoning board. When this is done the matter is referred to the city council for acceptance or rejection of the board's action.

Mr. Dillon explained he planned to erect a modern, up-to-date building, for retail and wholesale business, that he came to Sedalia five years ago, conducted a sound business, believed he was entitled to expand, and he would like to have that site. The property adjacent on the west is rezoned for industry.

On the other hand Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Heynen, who live on State Fair boulevard, Eddie J. Deuel, 2007 West Broadway, A. Maxwell, 2000 West Broadway, and C. L. Meyers, who owns property in the neighborhood, represented twelve property owners, opposing the rezoning. Their contention was that it is a home district, and even though there are some business houses nearby on Limit avenue, the neighborhood should be restricted, that it would devalue their property and they believed Mr. Dillon could find some other suitable property for a bakery.

Final Action Deferred
Within the council John Vandekamp, fourth ward alderman favored rezoning the property, declaring rezoning of certain properties must be done if Sedalia is to grow. He moved it be rezoned. Herb Studer, also fourth ward alderman, moved the action of the board be accepted, stating he was familiar with the matter and thought the property should not be rezoned. Mayor Julian H. Bagby ruled them both out of order and called for a second reading of the proposed ordinance. Then followed the discussion, and on motion of Virgil Corson, who stated he believed the council would like to give the whole matter more consideration, action was tabled by a unanimous vote.

It was brought out during the discussion that 12 property owners had signed a petition protesting the rezoning and 12 others stating they had no objections.

W. H. Guhman, of St. Louis, was voted engineer to supervise building of runways, hangars and equipment necessary on the new airport property, which is to be purchased east of Sedalia, on the north side of the highway, just east of the underpass.

Authorize Airport Sale
A resolution was passed authorizing advertising for sale the present city airport ground near Dresden, said property to be sold either in tracts, one or more, or altogether.

Another resolution provides for action to condemn property to provide an easement through the Frank Adams place on North Grand avenue, for laying a sewer, part of the city sewer system.

M. D. Weathers, 920 South Limit avenue, who is selling his package liquor license to the Esser Sales Corp., 906 South Limit avenue, was granted a license to sell 3.2 beer. Other renewal licenses granted were: to Henry Mos, 302 West Main street, liquor by the drink; Orvis W. Crouch, 724 West Sixteenth street, 3.2 beer; Sedalia Drug company, package liquor.

Truman Asks For Nine-man
Commission to Study Problem

WASHINGTON, March 7—(AP)—President Truman today asked Congress to authorize a nine-man commission to study long-range coal industry problems.

Along with identical letters to Vice-President Barkley and House Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex.), Mr. Truman sent to the capitol a proposed bill to create the commission which would report within one year.

The commission would be made up of two senators, two representatives, and five persons to be appointed by the president—one from the government and four civilians.

In a message last Friday the president said he would ask for such legislation. He described the coal industry as a "sick industry."

At that time he asked for authority to seize the mines, but in his letters today he said settlement of the mine strike made it unnecessary for Congress to give this further consideration now.

He added however that the end of the coal strike "has in no way diminished the need for a long-range study of the coal industry with the view of finding and putting into effect the best solutions of its problems from the standpoint of the miners, the operators, and, above all, the national interest."

House Passes Hawaii Bill

WASHINGTON, Mar. 7—(AP)—The House passed a bill today to make Hawaii a state.

Last Friday, the House passed the Alaska statehood bill by a vote of 186 to 146.

Senate action on the two measures is uncertain. Two years ago, the Senate interior committee allowed a House-passed Hawaiian statehood bill to die without action. The Alaska bill has never before been considered in the Senate.

House action followed pleas by delegate Farrington (R-Hawaii) and nearly a score of House members to give the people of Hawaii the rights of full citizenship they have sought for many years.

Several of the House opponents of the Alaska statehood bill joined the backers of statehood for Hawaii.

Crew Leaders For Census
Are Selected

Applicants For Enumerators Are Taking Examinations

Crew leaders for the census to be taken in Pettis county have been named by O. P. Keller, Sixth district supervisor of the 1950 census. Edw. S. Behen, 230 South Moniteau avenue has been named leader of Sedalia crew and Carl L. Ragar of Green Ridge, leader of the county crew. The enumerators who will take the census will be appointed by March 15, according to Mr. Keller.

Mrs. D. Kelly Scruton, 724 West Third street, has been offered the position as editor and chief of the census returns with headquarters at Springfield. Mrs. Scruton today said she would wait a few days before deciding upon accepting or rejecting the appointment made by Mr. Keller.

Examinations Being Taken
One hundred and ten persons took the examinations for enumerators, while several others who were unable to be present Monday and today because of illness or previous appointments, will be given an opportunity to take the test the latter part of the week.

There will be thirty-six enumerators appointed to take the census and several alternates, Mr. Keller announced. Those persons who took the crew leader tests will also be considered when the enumerator appointments are made, he said.

The tests were given this morning by Mr. Ragar and Mr. Behen under the supervision of Mr. Keller.

The 1950 census will begin on April 1 and is expected to be completed in the district not later than June 30.

Warning to Housewives
Mr. Keller also issued a warning to housewives and others to be on the lookout for persons who are representing themselves as taking the census. "We have no enumerators in the field at this time and our office already has had complaints of persons representing themselves as takers of the census. Before the enumerators begin their task we shall have a picture of one who will have the proper identifications as well as the appropriately decorated kits used by the field workers," Mr. Keller stated.

BRISBANE, Australia, March 7—(AP)—A Royal Australian Air Force Lincoln bomber crashed in flames in southeast Queensland today, killing four persons aboard. The plane smashed nose first into a field at Rosewood near Ipswich.

Second Count
The second count, of which she was found innocent, accused her of attempted espionage by attempting to transmit government documents to unauthorized persons.

The third count, of which Gubitchev was found guilty, accused him alone of acting as an unauthorized person attempting to receive secret government documents. The maximum penalty is 10 years and a $10,000 fine.

The fourth count of which Miss Coplon was found guilty, accused her alone of attempted espionage in trying to transmit documents relating to the national defense to a citizen of a foreign power, Russia, with the belief it would be used to injure the United States. This was the most serious charge and carries a maximum penalty of 20 years in prison, but no fine.

Gubitchev, as has been his custom since the trial began Jan. 24, stared straight ahead when the verdict was announced and the jurors were polled twice at the request of defense attorneys.

His face was slightly flushed as he went to a rack and took his hat and coat before being led out by a deputy marshal.

$110,000 Diamond Missing

Two Found Guilty of Conspiracy

Federal Jury Rules
Ex-Government Employee and Russian Spied For the Soviet

NEW YORK, March 7—(AP)—Judith Coplon and Valentin A. Gubitchev, the Soviet engineer, were found guilty of conspiracy and attempted espionage.

A federal court jury of six men and six women ruled that the former government employee and the stocky blond Russian met secretly in New York and plotted to spy for Soviet Russia.

Judith Coplon

It announced its verdict at 11:45 a. m. (EST) after having been locked up overnight. The jurors went out at 4:35 p. m. yesterday.

Brunette, vivacious Miss Coplon, 28, was found guilty on two counts—one of conspiracy and one of attempted espionage. She was found innocent of another charge that she attempted to transmit classified FBI documents to unauthorized persons.

Both she and Gubitchev, 38, were convicted on a conspiracy charge to commit espionage by removing classified documents from government files and to defraud the United States of her impartial services.

Remanded to Jail
Both defendants were remanded to jail for sentencing at 10:30 a. m. Thursday.

Miss Coplon can receive a maximum of 25 years in prison and a $10,000 fine. Gubitchev faces a maximum penalty of 15 years in prison and a $20,800 fine. Miss Coplon is already under 40 months to 10 years sentence for conviction on similar charges in Washington, D.C.

Neither betrayed any emotion as they sat and heard the verdict.

"Then, as she left the courtroom, Miss Coplon smiled weakly and kissed one of her attorneys, Leonard Boudini, and her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Bertram Coplon.

The first count in the four count indictment of which both were found guilty charged conspiracy to commit espionage, specifying removal of classified government documents and defrauding the U. S. government of Miss Coplon's impartial services. The maximum penalty is five years in prison and a $10,000 fine.

Truman Emphasizes to Congressional Leaders The Need for Federal Aid-to-Education Bill

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON.—In a recent conference with congressional "big four" leaders, the President made it bluntly clear that he expected them to finish passage of the federal aid-to-education bill, which already has passed the Senate.

"I'm depending on you to get a satisfactory bill through the House during this session," Truman told Speaker Sam Rayburn and House Majority Chief John McCormack.

The President added that he wouldn't attempt to dictate the terms of the bill regarding such controversial questions as free bus transportation for parochial students.

"The Democratic party," he said, "has promised aid for our schools and I am determined that we will make good on that promise. You bring me a bill down here and I'll sign it."

Briefing Public on A-War

A plan to form a chain of aircraft spotters across the United States has been drawn up in the national defense department.

The idea is for the public to do less worrying and more preparing for possible atomic attack. To this end the general public will be briefed on how to escape danger and stop panic, while civilian minutemen will be trained in peace for possible duties in case of war.

One of these is a civilian aircraft warning net, stretching in an arc across 25 northern states from North Carolina to California cutting across the middle of Illinois, Ohio and Indiana. Civilian volunteers will be trained, then kept on a stand-by basis at key posts to scan the skies for enemy planes. This is necessary to supplement our radar screen which hasn't been completed yet and has certain blind spots, anyhow.

The Navy has also been assigned to work with civilian authorities in order to throw a dim-out switch down the Pacific coast as an emergency, anti-submarine measure. A similar program will be worked out later for the Atlantic coast.

Must Face Unpleasanties

The plans being drafted include some unpleasant news, but military leaders believe they should be faced now.

In case of atomic attack, key civilians will be trained in each city to care for the dead and wounded and restore the city to emergency operation. Mobile units will also be trained to move into an atomic-blasted city and aid local authorities. Biggest need will be a huge blood reservoir. Another problem concerns the present humanitarian concept of aiding most critical cases first. In mass destructions, it will be more important to concentrate on aiding those who have a better chance of surviving. This tragic problem is already under study by medical experts.

A huge national war game, testing military-civilian teamwork from coast-to-coast, is also proposed.

Senate Food-Price Probe

The inside story behind high food prices will be brought out into the open today by courtly, white-haired Sen. Guy Gillette, an Iowa dairy farmer whose subcommittee has been digging into skyrocketing prices of coffee, milk, bread, eggs, coffee, poultry and live stock.

Despite terrific pressure to stop his trouble, Gillette will show that, while farmers' income is shrinking and consumers pay more, the middleman has been making more.

In January, 1949, for instance, the largest U.S. coffee importer, the Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co., paid 25 cents a pound for coffee, and sold it for 47 cents. Ten months later A & P paid 28 cents a pound, but charged 65 cents.

Another big buyer, General Foods, raised its retail price from 51 cents to 76 cents a pound, although it paid approximately the same import price as A & P.

Many of the big importers are members of the Sugar & Coffee Exchange, which were investigated after World War I because of the hike in sugar prices. Gillette investigators figure a sugar price rise is in the cards now, unless the Senate's coffee probe scares it off.

Capital News Capsules

JOHN L. LEWIS VS. PHIL MURRAY—The good old American spirit of free competition may be fine regarding some things but it was partly responsible for the coal crisis. Harry Moses of U.S. Steel's giant H. C. Frick Coal Company put his finger on this during closed-door talks when he refused to give John L. Lewis a bigger wage increase than that given Phil Murray's CIO steelworkers. When rank-and-file union members see a boost going to a rival union, they demand the same thing whether union leaders want it or not.

IDAHO POTATOES—Here are two interesting things about the potato surplus: 1—Idaho potatoes aren't glutting the market like Maine spuds. 2—Acreage quotas aren't going to limit the potato crop much. Farmers simply use more fertilizer. Maine farmers have now increased their yield to 450 bushels per acre, whereas the national yield is 211 bushels. Thanks to fertilizer and insect sprays, however, the national average next year will be 240 bushels. Meanwhile, top Idaho spuds have been selling for $2.75 to $3.50 per bushel while Uncle Sam is paying a support price of around $2 for surplus-potatoes. So it's not in Idaho that potatoes have been piling up.

HOT WAR—It didn't leak out, but the cold war almost turned into a hot war last week. Yugoslav troops were on the verge of invading Albania, which would probably have precipitated a counter-attack by Russia. But U.S. Ambassador George Allen in Belgrade got wind of Yugoslavia's preparations, went to Marshal Tito and told him that, if Yugoslavia did invade Albania, the United States would be forced to denounce him before the United Nations. This cooled Tito off and he called off his troops.

British Vote Holds Lesson— If GOP Can Only See it

By Bruce Blossat

A lot of our Republicans think the British election results boost their own stock for next November's balloting in this country. They see a worldwide "trend to the Right."

There may well be some substance to this notion. But there are some matters the Republicans ought to review before they start getting too confident.

In the first place, as has been pointed out many times, the welfare state wasn't at issue in Britain. Nor was the socialism that has already been put into effect. The Conservatives accept all that the Labor Party has achieved up to now under these headings.

They do promise not to do any more socializing. But on the other hand they pledge themselves to expand some welfare programs, particularly housing.

All this places the Conservatives well to the left of the most extreme leftists among President Truman's Democratic followers. And it stamps them unmistakably as a "me-too" party. So the British trend is hardly what U. S. Republicans may like to think it is. It may be well for them to remember, too, that Labor's share of the total British vote dropped less than 2 per cent as compared with 1945.

Republicans have been torn for some time now over the wisdom of me-tooism. Some leaders have accepted the majority of changes wrought by the Democrats, but others insist this gives the voters no real choice.

Britain has now contributed to the GOP debate. For the Conservatives, embracing the bulk of their opponents' established programs, have bounced back within a short five years to a level almost even with Labor.

By contrast, Republicans in this country, confused about where to take their stand, have been kept out of the White House for nearly 18 straight years. And except for the brief 1946-48 interlude, they've been denied control of Congress for as long.

The British result doesn't prove that "the worm finally turns" for an opposition party merely content to oppose—and wait. The Conservatives' quick recovery is rooted in a grasp of social and political realities.

If the GOP can understand this lesson and act upon it, the British balloting may indeed have helped the party's cause in the 1950 campaign. But if the Republicans insist on interpreting the outcome as assurance they've been right all along, they'll be deluding themselves with false comforts. And November will bring another rude awakening.

Character Will Tell

Secretary of State Acheson has made a commendable statement to Congress on his attitude toward Alger Hiss, former State Department employee who was convicted of perjury last month.

Acheson's original statement after Hiss' trial was clear enough to those who troubled to read it. He specifically declined to comment on the question of Hiss' guilt or innocence, since an appeal was and is pending in the courts.

He said, however, that he could not "turn his back" on Hiss, who had been a personal friend. By this he meant that as an individual, as a Christian, he felt bound to treat his friend with compassion at the moment of his deep trouble. To speak out thus was courageous, for Acheson must have known his remarks would be turned to suggest he was "defending" Hiss.

That's exactly what happened, which is why he humbled himself to explain to a committee in Congress that he did not mean by his words to condone the offense charged against Hiss.

It's too bad Acheson had to discuss Hiss at all, but his personal ties made that inevitable. That being so, he has handled himself as one would expect. For he is a man of character and high moral integrity.

Acts. 7:59—60; Matt. 14:3—12

THE BASIS OF RESENTMENTS: AN UNSURRENDERING SELF

While the central and fundamental motive for forgiving injuries against us is that God forgives us, and we therefore copy God as His children, nevertheless there are minor motives and techniques which we can use in dealing with resentments.

(1) Remember that at the basis of most resentments is a touchy, unsundered self. The fact that we have been able to hold the resentment shows that there is a self that is over-sensitive because unsundered to the will of God. When surrendered to the will of God we throw off resentments as a healthy skin throws off disease germs. Unless there is inner disease or an abrasion of the skin, the disease germs can get no foothold. So, when resentments have gained a footing, it shows that there is a raw, sensitive self underneath that has become a culture soil for the rooting and growth of resentments. Suspect a sense that can grow resentments—it is probably diseased with self-centeredness.

(2) Raise the question with yourself as to whether your resentments aren't rooted in imaginary slights, insults, and wrongs. A self-centered person can imagine a group is talking about him when that group is talking about everything else but; he can read into actions and statements meanings never intended; he can go around with a suspicious, looking-for-slights attitude, and will find imaginary ones aplenty. A sensitive person can by his very mental attitude throw people around him into unnatural, closed-in attitudes which he interprets as intentional hurts and slights; but all the time he is oblivious of the fact that his own attitudes of self-centered sensitiveness created the very things in others against which he reacts.

Remember that "when you go around with a chip on your shoulder, the chip is probably from the block above."

O God, my Father, help me to see myself clearly, for I defend myself; I gather self-defensive arguments around myself as a magazine. Let me then lay this resentment-gathering self at Thy feet for cleansing and release. In Jesus' name. Amen.

The Doctor Says—

You Have to Learn to Slow Down in Your Middle Years

Written for NEA Service

Several people have written asking for a discussion of the medical problems of middle age. This is a larger order and besides most of us are unwilling to admit that youth has passed and middle age has set in. When one is 18, 25 looks middle-aged; at 35 middle age still seems comfortably far off!

The division of life into childhood, youth, middle age and old age is an arbitrary one. Actually, aging is a gradual process and the health problems connected with each period of life are only slightly different from those of the next younger group.

There are some differences: a man of 20 can usually run the mile without difficulty, but no man in his right senses would try to do this in his 50's. It is the same with most other strenuous physical activities.

More sleep is often needed by the person in the late 30's or early 40's than in the early 20's. Other things are in proportion. This should not be considered abnormal. The body merely needs more rest and time to restore its powers.

A reader recently wrote that she was 47, and although married and having children, held a responsible office position. She stated that she sometimes found it more difficult to keep up with fast dictation than it had been some years before. Now this too is probably no reflection of disease.

With two teen-age boys and the other responsibilities of a household and having presumably worked hard for many years, it is certainly not surprising that she should show some fatigue at such an exacting task as the taking of rapid dictation.

The solution—which of course may not be a practical one—would be to cease from undertaking so much, in other words to give up the heavy office work in addition to other duties.

In General

In a brief discussion such as this, it is merely possible to scratch the surface of the many

FINGERPRINTS Don't Lie

By Rupert Hughes

THE STORY: After Asalea Palmer found her father with his skull crushed by a desk telephone in his library, police learn of a quarrel between the victim and Asalea's fiancé, the sculptor Paul Moody. Asalea's father, the wealthy Wendell Palmer, tried to break up his daughter's romance with the artist, and he also had vetoed a commission that would win Moody fame for a statue group on a new building. Police detective Janice Stivers has found fingerprints on the telephone, used as the murder weapon, and he has set out in company with Pete Kelso, another police detective, to search Paul's studio for further prints.

VIII

DETECTIVES JAMES STIVERS and Pete Kelso reached Paul Moody's studio as fast as the police car could whisk them through crowded streets where all traffic stopped dead or pulled to the curb as the wails of the oncoming siren pierced the air.

The studio was part of an old warehouse with one room large enough and high enough of ceiling to house the big and little sculptures Paul Moody had turned out, or was working on, or dreaming of.

Alongside and above were his modestly furnished living quarters. The reception room was merely a corner of the workshop with a big rug, a divan, chairs, the necessary small bar, and a few other comforts for his visitors, clients, or models.

As the invaders from the police department expected, Paul was not at home, and there was some difficulty in finding the arthritic old caretaker. He made still more difficulty about admitting strangers even though Pete Kelso flashed his badge.

The suggestion that Paul Moody was wanted for a murder sent the old man into a fit of cackling and so say that one felt they could not really be good art. They were too human for that.

The caretaker was too ancient and too feeble to be handled roughly even by Kelso, who was afraid the old man might fall apart if shaken vigorously. It was Stivers who finally ended the trouble when he said:

"If you're so sure your boss is innocent you ought to be glad to have it proved by scientific methods. I promise you we won't break a thing, shift a thing, or steal a thing."

At last the old man admitted them. He showed a disposition to stand guard over the treasures, but he had other tasks and reluctantly left, shaking a tremendous fist at Kelso and cackling:

"If you muss anything up, I'll pull your head off and throw it in your face."

EVEN to men whose business it was to visit grewsome scenes or the haunts of grewsome people, there was something uncanny, occult in the great studio.

Though empty of all life but their own, it was peopled, almost forested, by finished and unfinished images of men, women, children, in marble, bronze or oiled clay. And somehow they seemed more alive than living people.

A great horse was only half released from the mass of modeling clay that held his hindquarters in a huge unfinished block. A panther seemed to be straining in ferocious agony to writhe out of the imprisonment of incompleteness. Every emotion seemed to be alert here, laughter, sorrow, love, hate, yearning.

Among the humans there were the heads of old, old men and women, and children so pretty and so gay that one felt they could not really be good art. They were too human for that.

The big model of a group for the National Electric Building had a funeral meaning since it would never be finished and it had already led its creator into the coils of justice.

Stivers recognized the medalion of Asalea Palmer by its beauty and its aliveness. A pang woke in his heart for her. He had held her hands in his and had looked into her pitifully pathetic and bewildered eyes.

But Kelso was drawn more to the figures of nude or half-draped women. In that field, he gloatingly boasted to Stivers, he was a "connoisseur." As he pronounced the word it sounded more like "corner sewer," and Stivers grunted that he was probably right.

Stivers knew that Kelso had been attached to the vice squad, and he wondered how much longer its sickening corruptions could be concealed from the public.

Stivers had heard the name of one particularly zealous "fallen woman," Nelda Croft, linked with that of Pete Kelso. She was a great one for compromising rich men and making them poorer, and there had been whispers—or grunts—that Kelso had engineered some of her shake-downs.

THE thought flashed into Stivers' mind: "Maybe Kelso is sore because Paul Moody bumped off old Wendell Palmer before he and Nelda could shake the old man down."

Then he reminded himself that all this was none of his business. His business was to collect the fingerprints of Paul Moody, and he could see that there was no end to them.

There would be the prints of other people, too: guests, models, the caretakers; but on the first unfinished clay statue in front of him he felt sure that there must be the sculptor's prints and no other.

There were balls of damp clay that Paul had kneaded before stuffing them into their places in the armatures. There were soft spots where one palm had rested while the other hand was busy with its magic.

First And Last, These Rules Will Keep Hubby's Love Alive

If you want a man to stay in love with you through the years—

Be the first to laugh at his jokes, even the most feeble ones.

Be the first to admit that he used good judgment when a deal turns out well and to concede that "circumstances beyond his control" gummed up the works when a deal turns out badly.

Be the first to be impressed by his new accomplishment of which he is secretly proud.

Be the first to appreciate his generosity, preferably when you have an audience.

Be the first to notice any minor change in his dress—for to a man a minor change is as important as a completely "new look" to a woman.

Be the first to pass on any compliment he didn't hear first hand.

Be the first to remember that he predicted an event that eventually comes about, but the last to mention any wrong guesses he may have made.

Be the last to point out his faults, to him or to anybody else.

Be the last to remind him that he is not as young as he used to be.

Be the last to criticize his taste, even in neckties.

Be the last to disclose any of his shortcomings to others.

Be the last to repeat any unpleasant news he can't do anything about, and can't benefit by knowing.

Be the last to take credit for any bright ideas he has assumed he thought up himself.

Be the last to tell him he is making a mistake.

ACCESSORIES CAN FOCUS ON GLOVES THIS SPRING

For Spring '50—accessories in the finest of leathers set an elegant mood for the cocktail hour. Long, washable, hand-sewn doekin gloves reflect the fashion influence of the twenties. Jewelry which is opulent enough to be real completes the costume.

Spring accessories are designed for elegance.

Naked shoes, fake jewelry opulent enough to be real, longer gloves of fine leather, and handsomely detailed handbags are all feminine, flattering and slightly reminiscent of the twenties.

And, as in the twenties, this season's accessories have been created for drama. They make the most of a costume or a personality.

Gloves may well be the focal point of your costume this Spring, particularly since top ready-to-wear designers have concentrated their attention upon sleeves. And the new gloves make the most of the new sleeves.

In the Spring collection, the new gloves have been designed with an eye to sleeve treatments. A very brief glove goes with the brief sleeve so becoming to you—women. A suit glove, designed especially with the new short-sleeved suit in mind, is also short. This glove covers the wrist, bares the arm to the elbow, and is so designed that the wrist treatment carries out the width of the new tulip sleeve.

Long Gloves Too

A coat glove, which goes equally well with short sleeves, or with the loose, wide kimono sleeve, is slightly longer, elegantly detailed and slit at the wrist to give a graceful flare at mid-arm.

The long glove is stressed for afternoon and cocktail wear. Many of this type of glove designs depend upon color and extravagant length of leather for effect. They range from elbow to shoulder length.

One of the smartest color coordinations for Spring is matching gloves and ready-to-wear with bag and shoes in a contrasting shade. In addition to color and length, however, you should consider the texture interest of your accessories and ready-to-wear this Spring.

Team Up
For instance, glove gloves teamed with calf shoes and bag, provide interesting contrast for rough country tweeds. Soft doekin gloves and velvety suede in shoes and bag are the perfect complement to rich, glossy satins and taffeta. Handsewn doekin gloves, medium-heeled suede shoes and a boxy suede bag accentuate the rough texture of fleece or casual tweeds.

But, whatever your wardrobe plans for Spring, remember that new accessories mean drama for new clothes, or for last season's left-overs.

By Charles Molony

WASHINGTON, March 7—(AP)—Government officials today looked for a decline in unemployment this month from the total reached in February. That was the highest jobless total since August, 1941, and 36 per cent higher than in February 1949.

Actually, the number of job opportunities increased by 6,000 from January to February, but that didn't begin to take care of the 210,000 new job seekers, including midwinter school graduates.

Census bureau figures issued yesterday measured the result as a 204,000 increase in unemployment—not counting the striking coal miners—despite the simultaneous increase in civilian jobs to 56,953,000.

The jobs or employment total included strikers just as it did others having jobs but temporarily absent from work because of illness, vacations, short layoffs, etc.

Christopher For Gas Tax Law

He was quite prompt with the following statement:

"I am in receipt of your letter regarding my attitude toward the proposed two cent increase in the gasoline tax. I feel that our road program in Missouri is lagging at the present time. Our revenue is hardly sufficient to maintain our present road system to say nothing about the increased need and demand for more and better roads. I do not like to see thirty one million dollars in federal funds going to some other state because Missouri does not have necessary funds to match this amount in order to receive same. School of the Ozarks Officer Is Club Speaker

M. Graham Clark, Jr., vice president of the School of the Ozarks at Point Lookout was the guest speaker Monday afternoon at the Sorosis meeting at the Heard Memorial club house, talking on the subject nearest his heart, "The School of the Ozarks."

It was more than 40 years ago that this school was started down in the Ozarks to give boys and girls there an opportunity for a high school education as well as the training to do things with their hands, the speaker said. And there have been times when they wondered where the money to carry on would come from but always in some manner it came.

In the School of the Ozarks, Mr. Clark said, may be found boys and girls of all religions. And whatever their religion might be it plays a very definite part in their lives. They look like young people of any other school but there is one thing in common. They are from poor parents, he said, for no boy or girl with money is admitted to the school. They are not interested in family trees, the speaker said. But these people of the Ozark county have the purest strain of Anglo-Saxon blood in America. Their lives are morally clean, he said, and there chivalry still lives.

Illustrated Point With Story
In illustrating that point Mr. Clark told the story of an orphaned Chicago boy, who was taken into the school and who came to him frightened from threats of the other boys. When Mr. Clark learned what the trouble was he found that the orphan boy had whistled at some of the girls and called them "dames," which, he explained, was what they did in Chicago. But the boys of the School of the Ozarks had resented it and threatened the new boy.

The year around school teaches, in addition to the high school subjects, how to do things, Mr. Clark said. The girls are taught to sew, weave, cook, can food and many other things, he said, while the boys grow the things to eat, plow and harvest crops, milk and care for a Jersey herd, raise hogs, turkeys and various other things for food. They help to build the buildings, getting rock from the quarry. From this training has come a great many contractors, one of them a girl, he said.

In telling of the girl who was the head of a large contracting business, he said that she had never seen any water except the spring near her home until she went to the school and did not know how to turn on the faucet.

Trained For Work
Part of these young people return to their homes, he said. The boys become farmers and the girls make excellent wives. But many also go to the cities, some with real success stories and all with fine useful lives. They have been trained for any line of work they care to follow. Secretarial work, art, music and many other things that give them the foundation of knowing how by doing.

The scholarships for the year cost $180 and are given by different individuals and organizations. The young people work for the remainder of the scholarship, Mr. Clark said. The buildings, too, have been given, some by people who ask their names not to be used. "We never pray for money," Mr. Clark said. "We only pray for blessings and that somehow always takes care of the needs."

Many Are Orphans
The ages average from 12 to 22 years and about 40 per cent of the young people are orphans, Mr. Clark said. They like to see things grow, he said, and they have a canning factory on the campus where they not only can food for their own use but to sell. They work 16 hours a week and sometimes work extra hours for things they want. For these, Mr. Clark pointed out, teaches them that they must work for things in later life and gives them a greater appreciation of what they have. "We teach them," he said, "not only how to make a living, but how to live."

March Winds Really Blowing

The March wind was really showing off today. You couldn't hardly stand up against it. Dirt blew in your eyes, hats blew off and skirts wouldn't stay down.

One man had his hat lifted off his head, it went straight up about 20 feet. He decided it would do no good to chase it and then suddenly it came on down again to settle itself peacefully in an alley just a few steps away.

There was a loud clanging of something on West Third street in the 100 block about noon which turned out to be three tin cans going merrily down the street with the wind. At Fourth street and Ohio avenue, was a huge piece of tin about seven feet long and nearly as wide, that had blown off of something and was right at the intersection. Things of all kinds were blowing everywhere and everybody was glad enough to get wherever they were going and into shelter.

Optimists Hear Talk on Color

The Sedalia Optimist club held its regular luncheon meeting today at noon at the Bothwell hotel. Emory Bowman being the guest speaker.

Mr. Bowman's subject was "We Live and Die With Color." He spoke both seriously and humorously on the effect of color in the lives of all human beings. Specific instances of experiments with color in industrial plants and their bearing on production were cited. The speaker also pointed out that airplanes and ships are carefully decorated to avoid the use of any color which suggests nausea.

Carl Frank was formally installed as a new member and Steve Fechtel, former member of the Jefferson City Optimist club, attended as a guest.

President Frank Mehl presided and program chairmen were Charles Hanna and W. A. Smith.

Mack Hildreth, foreman of a Cities Service Gas Co. crew from Joplin, brought eight men to start installing a temporary line around the regulator station. He said he did not know how long this would take but it would not be completed today.

By 8 a. m., 25 crews were all over the city shutting off main control valves.

The explosion was heard all over the city. A bus driver reported seeing the flames from North View hill on U. S. Highway 66, 15 miles east of the city. This was about 20 miles from the regulator station on the southwest edge of Springfield.

Emergency Equipment
All hospitals use gas for cooking. Electric ranges and hot plates were quickly installed to meet the emergency.

At the city hospital and Ozark Osteopathic hospital, where gas is used to heat the instrument sterilizers, operations scheduled for today were postponed.

All schools are heated with coal. School cafeterias, however, were affected by lack of cooking gas. Many students took their lunches.

Three of four large bakeries have butane gas for standby use. The Kroger bakery was shut down as it does not have a standby fuel. All creameries have standby fuel.

Yesterday the dust storm became so bad in Central Kansas that at Hope, 15 miles east of Salina, the Ivan Sexton home became a refuge for motorists forced to quit driving because of the inability to see.

Magistrate Dunaff held the prisoner without bail for a hearing Thursday.

Chrysler Rejects Bid From UAW

DETROIT, March 7—(AP)—Chrysler Corp. rejected Monday a bid from the CIO United Auto Workers for company officials to take part in a mass meeting of striking Chrysler workers here tomorrow.

"The strike can be settled around the bargaining table," the company told Norman Matthews, the union's Chrysler director.

Robert W. Conder, director of labor relations for Chrysler, declared the company already had fully informed employees of its stand.

Chrysler has offered to pay pensions of $100 a month, including social security, but has refused to set up a pension fund or give the union a voice in administering pensions. The company contends its good faith and credit are sufficient guarantee for payment of pensions.

UAW President Walter Reuther called the mass meeting to give the strikers a report on negotiations.

Kills Self With Life Saving Device

SAVANNAH, Ga., March 7—(P)—An oxygen mask—a flyer's life saving device—was used Monday by an air force private to kill himself.

Detective Tommy E. Todd said Private Russell E. O'Bannon donned his oxygen mask, attached it to a gas stove connection and breathed the deadly fumes.

The dead airman was found lying in the floor, his head on a pillow and the mask covering his face. Police said they had not determined a motive.

In the room, the detective said, was a note to Mrs. O'Bannon which read:

"Sweetheart: take care of yourself. Love always." It was signed "Rusty."

The airman was stationed at Chatham Air Force Base, Savannah.

Offer Surplus Dried Eggs, Milk

WASHINGTON, March 7—(P)—The government Monday offered surplus dried eggs and dried milk free of charge to private relief agencies helping the needy at home and abroad.

Early last month the agriculture department placed these commodities on a give-away list for the school lunch program, the bureau of Indian affairs and federal, state and local public welfare agencies.

Surplus potatoes have been on a free list for both public and private welfare agencies since mid-January.

Butter may be the next surplus commodity to be made available for relief use.

These commodities were acquired by the department under its farm price support program. The government now has more than $1,000,000,000 tied up in excess farm supplies.

The department said public welfare agencies took about 500,000 pounds of dried eggs and 1,500,000 pounds of dried milk between February 8, when they were put on the free list, and March 1.

Lowest Gas Tax In Nation

Smith Declares In Furtherance Of Increase In State

COLUMBIA, Mo., March 7—(AP)—Gov. Forrest Smith charged Monday night the opponents of a 4-cent gasoline tax are using gasoline profits to raise a slush fund for their campaign.
His statement was part of a speech at an Optimist club dinner here—one of a series he is making over the state. The four cent tax, with revenue from one cent pledged for rural roads, comes before the voters at a special referendum election April 4.
The governor noted that Missouri's present two cent tax is the lowest in the nation. But gasoline prices are not much lower than in neighboring states with higher taxes, he said.
He quoted from a Missouri Petroleum Association bulletin opposing the tax increase and added:
"They are using your money that you are now paying in overpriced gasoline to raise a slush fund to fight your state. The profits they refer to come from you. It's their own admission that they are charging Missourians a premium price for gas and that they intend to continue doing it if they can get away with it."
"I am getting tired of having the oil interest make suckers of

Third In Lenten Series At St. Paul's Church
The third in a series of mid-week Lenten services will be held at St. Paul's Lutheran church, Broadway and Massachusetts avenue, this Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock.
The Rev. Walter F. Strickert, pastor of the church, will continue his series of sermons on John 3:16 preaching this Wednesday on the topic: "The Scope of Our Salvation."
Missourians and I hope you are in the same frame of mind. x x"
Charge Misrepresentation
Smith accused opponents of "spreading bald faced falsehoods all over this state" about the new law. He denied that any change would be made in the present system of refunds for farm used gasoline, or that the new revenue would be turned over to county courts.
"These are typical of the campaign of deliberate lies being circulated by these selfish interests," he said.
Smith estimated one-sixth of the people in Missouri are still mud-bound. Rural roads must be improved, he said, to make the consolidation of rural schools successful.
"Why, in several north Missouri counties the school children are being transported to school in horse drawn hacks and old fashioned cowboys, believe it or not," he said.
Besides improving rural roads, Smith said the extra money would give the state funds to match $31,000,000 in federal aid and bring about 4,500 miles of the major highway system up to date. Some of the money also will be used on city trafficway construction, he said.

SINGAPORE—(AP)—Police dogs are to be used in Malaya's jungles by security forces to ferret out Communist terrorists.

HALF-CENTURY HIGHLIGHTS

"ACE OF ACES" was the name earned in 1918 by Capt. Eddie Rickenbacker, formerly noted as a daredevil auto racer. One of few Americans to emerge a hero from both World Wars, Rickenbacker also carved a brilliant civilian career in aviation. During World War I, as America's top ace, he shot down 26 German planes. In October, 1942, while on a secret mission for the Air Force, his plane was forced down in the Pacific. He and seven fellow fliers lived through 23 tortuous days on rubber rafts before all but one were rescued. Now head of a major airline, Rickenbacker still devotes much time to imparting his tremendous faith and courage to fellow veterans, particularly the disabled, and to a world sadly in need of inspiration.

Count Gives An Address On Communism

Adventurer Is The Speaker Before
Rotary Forum

The third of a series of Rotary International Forum lectures was given at Smith-Cotton high school Monday night with Count de Rencourt, journalist, naval officer, intelligence operative and adventurer, addresses the audience with his subject, "Penetrating Forbidden Tibet and Adventures in India and Afghanistan."

D. S. Lamm presided over the meeting and the Rev. T. W. Croxton gave the invocation.

The Sedalia Men's Choral club under the direction of Abe Rosenthal and with accompanist Miss Lillian Fox appeared before the Count Rencourt's address and sang two selections.

Count Rencourt open his address by giving the audience an outline of his lecture and telling them of his conception of Communism in its various forms and degrees.

The count brought out his contention that Communism is a new belief, a new faith that the people of broken countries cling to with the sincere hope of surviving the pangs of rehabilitation. The speaker then went on to tell of the way Communism had slipped into the various countries of Asia.

Moslems 'Aloof'

He said that in the Moslem countries such as Egypt the Communism regime will never get a foothold. He then explained why the Moslems were so immune to the "new faith". The people in the Moslem countries such as Egypt are now content with their belief in their religion and their ways of political and governmental security. Their religion, according to Count Rencourt seems to be their main weapon in warding off the Communistic evils.

The speaker then told of the conditions that prevail in the other Asiatic countries such as Turkey, Iraq, Indonesia, India and finally China.

He said that the Communists have made their progress in China because the Chinese people are struggling for something to cling to and the new belief of Communism is offering that something. He went on and told of the Communist working that are taking place in that country and of the progress that is being made by the Red dominating forces.

Looks For Break

He said that it would be madness to have the Russians keep things like they are now. He then voiced the opinion that the Communist movement would break away entirely from the Russian governing power soon.

His talk continued with the China situation and finally settled with his topic of "Penetrating Forbidden Tibet." He said that the country of Tibet is one of the easiest countries to defend in Asia. According to Count Rencourt that country is relatively empty when it is compared to its neighbors, India and China.

Isolated In Stronghold

Again he stressed the fact that since the people of Tibet were so very devoted to their religion and are so completely isolated by their stronghold in the mountains that hold the country, it is very unlikely that any Communist influences could creep into the peoples thinking. He brought out that the peoples of Tibet were strongly opposed to the Communist ideals and to the methods that were being employed in the country of turmoil, China.

In the question and answer portion of the program Count Rencourt said that "we've got to stop the Communist movement in Asia." He stress the importance of stopping the "new belief" and killing out the things that are brought into being by it.

It can't be done in six months or a year, he said. It will take planning and time.

When asked about the reception he got in Tibet the count said that the difficulty of getting into the country was the greatest obstacle. He told of the trying time he had obtaining a passport and of the trip up over the mountains.

He described the Tibet people of the Forbidden City as very pleasant and hospitable. While

New Innovation in Postal Service

A new highway post office coach being installed on post office runs in Iowa by the Des Moines Springfield and Southern stage lines of which A. B. Fletcher is president and manager. The new coach is similar to the railroad mail cars and will service communities along the route which at the present time do not have railroad mail service. Efforts are being made by communities between Springfield, Sedalia and Des Moines to have a similar mail route established to give a more direct mail service between those cities and communities along the route. The coach was on display in Sedalia last week and cost more than $17,000.

'Prepared to Die'
